New Russian Bid Fails To Melt Opposition of U.S. To 'Friendship' Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new appeal from Premier Bulganin failed today to melt U. S. opposition to a Soviet-American "friendship treaty" which this government holds to be needless.

In a 2,800-word message made public by the State Department last night, Bulganin urged President Eisenhower to reconsider the 20-year pact proposed by the Russian premier last week and turned down by Eisenhower.

U. S. officials said Bulganin's new message was mainly a rehash of previous arguments for the treaty and that he had not advanced persuasive new ideas.

Eisenhower, in a letter Saturday, had told Bulganin a treaty between Russia and the United States, merely reiterating peaceful behavior pledges already in the United Nations charter, "might indeed work against the cause of peace."

Bulganin picked up Eisenhower's argument that "deeds not words" are needed to ease East-West tensions, and sought to turn it back on the United States.

WITHOUT NAMING Secretary of State Dulles, he called the secretary's "brink of war" statement provocative. And he said American moves to build up its bases around the Soviet Union create "fully understandable apprehension" among the Russians.

Bulganin said he thought Eisenhower would agree "that the conclusion of a treaty of friendship and cooperation between the two strongest powers in the world would contribute enormously to a healthier international situation."

Officials said his letter would be answered in the same courteous vein that has characterized the exchange of almost half a dozen personal messages between the two leaders since the summit conference last July.

Bulganin told Eisenhower Russia would be prepared to make

Steel, which plays such an important part in the life of every Fayette Countyman as well as people generally, is 100 years old this year.

Henry Bessemer of England, announced the discovery of a process of blowing air through molten iron to "burn out the impurities," and his countryman, Robert Mushet, was granted a patent for a manganese compound which helped convert Bessemer's product into steel. Bessemer was granted two American patents in 1856, but was soon confronted by a claim of priority of invention by William Kelly, of Eddyville, Ky. Kelly's claim was allowed in this country because he showed that he had successfully used the same pneumatic process in 1851 and had worked on it as early as 1847.

Producing steel by blowing cold air through the molten iron in a converter and adding controlled amounts of manganese is now known as the Bessemer process. This method of producing steel was used in this country until 1908. Now about 90 percent of all the raw steel produced in the United States each year is made in open hearth furnaces.

Data Is Assembled For Washington C.H. Development Plan

A plan for development of Washington C. H. may still be several weeks — perhaps several months — away, but progress on it is being made by graduate students in the School of City Design at Miami University at Oxford.

This was the report brought back by Walter Morrow, the chairman of the Area Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce here, and Glen Allen, the chamber's general manager, after spending the day at the school going over several other projects that are now approaching completion.

Back from Oxford, both Morrow and Allen were overflowing with enthusiasm for the projects they had seen the students working on at Miami. Allen summed it up when he said: "They (the City Design School) do a tremendous job down there at Miami. . . it's just fabulous."

Allen then described in a general way what had been done on a plan for two projects that were well along toward completion — one at Yellow Springs and the other at Park Ridge, an extension development at Middletown.

PROFESSOR Rudolph Frankel, the head of the school, and a dozen of the students, first came to Washington C. H. last summer to make a preliminary survey after some inquiries concerning the school had been made by the Chamber of Commerce.

Since then survey teams have been in and out of here numerous times to make studies of specific elements of the planning project. Sometimes, they came and went without even letting anyone at the Chamber of Commerce know they were here.

If everything goes according to plan, the students and Prof. Frankel will spend two days here next week, probably Wednesday and Thursday, to complete their study. Allen said Prof. Frankel told him and Morrow he felt certain all the necessary data on Washington C. H. and the surrounding area would be assembled after this final two-day survey and that after this, the work of laying out the plan — the city design — could be started into the final phases.

No time for completing it was mentioned.

ALTHOUGH Fayette County and Washington C. H. are 150 years old and both have been growing "like Topsy," without very much long range planning, the Chamber of Commerce has taken the position that the time has come for a look into the future.

Colds facts and figures show that Washington C. H. is growing and that it probably will continue to grow. Robert Terhune, the past president of the Chamber of Commerce, said when he set up the Area Development Committee more than a year ago.

At that time, Terhune expressed the conviction that in view of the inevitable expansion of the city, the development should be considered on an area basis rather than a city basis.

Residents of Union Township went along with that thought, too, when they voted to set up a township zoning program and a board of appeals.

It was against this kind of progressive background that the Chamber of Commerce Area Development Committee started its investigation into the possibility of getting help from the School of City Design at Miami University.

Ohio Seeks Funds To Fight Mine Fires

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Division of Mines has started a check to find out if any more federal funds are available to continue the work of fighting five mine fires in Hocking County.

Margaret Mahoney, industrial relations director, said she has directed the division to check land deeds to determine how much property the state owns on the mine sites.

Under present regulations, the U. S. Bureau of Mines pays the cost of fighting mine fires on public lands, and Ohio and the federal government own forest land under which some of the fires are burning. But since mineral rights under some of the land still are held by mining companies, a legal question arises as to how far the federal government can go to supply funds.

Miss Mahoney said she was asking mining companies to say for the record whether they are willing to fight the fires on a 50-50 basis with the federal government.

One of the mine fires, at New Straitsville, has been burning since 1884. In the 1930s the federal government, under a WPA program, spent about $400,000 in an effort to check the fire. Others are burning at Sand Run, Carbon Hill near Nelsonville, Pittsburgh Hollow and Cawthorne. There has been no new

Eden Advises: Never Fear Meeting Reds

British Chief Defends Invite to Soviets But Questions Friendship

WASHINGTON (AP)—British Prime Minister Eden wound up his five-day Washington visit today with this advice to the American people: Never be afraid to meet and argue with the Russians.

Eden defended his invitation to Soviet Premier Bulganin and Communist party boss Khrushchev to visit England next spring. Eden said he does not "regard it as a bad thing that we should talk with those with whom we disagree."

At the same time, Eden described Bulganin's offer of a friendship treaty with America, Britain and France as a "remarkable" event since Russia only last year tore up a Soviet-British non-aggression pact.

The British government chief phrased his comment on the latest Bulganin message to President Eisenhower very carefully and with what appeared to reporters to be British understatement.

BULGANIN, in a message delivered to Eisenhower yesterday, urged the President to reverse his rejection of last week's Bulganin proposal for a 20-year friendship treaty with the United States. Bulganin declared his readiness to make similar treaties with Britain, France and other nations.

Eden, at a news conference just before winding up a five-day visit to Washington, said he thought this offer "interesting" and "a little remarkable."

There used to be an Anglo-Soviet pact, he remarked.

Eden himself and Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov signed it, he said, and "perhaps he will remember." It was a 20-year treaty and the late Ernest Bevin as British foreign minister offered to extend it to 50 years.

"That treaty doesn't exist any longer because the Soviets denounced it," Eden said. "And for what reason does it not exist any longer?"

Eden answered himself: "Because we and the countries of Western Europe formed an association of free nations in defense, purely in defense of the West."

Calling his conversations with Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles "the most encouraging conference I have ever attended," he said the real accomplishment was "a spirit of unity" and said holding to it "can mean peace for the world forever."

Europe's Record Cold Wave Leaves Nearly 100 As Dead

Fabb Seeks Reelection As County Treasurer

Charles A. Fabb is going to seek reelection as Fayette County's treasurer.

He filed his petitions for the Republican nomination at the May primary election late Thursday.

Charles A. Fabb

Fabb has unconsciously built up a reputation in Court House circles as the "watchdog of the county treasury" through his insistence on careful scrutiny of every item on the county budget. As the treasurer, he is a member of the budget commission.

He also gained considerable recognition for his astute business judgment when he invested the $300,000 from the sale of the bonds for the Memorial Hospital in government bonds until the money was needed to pay for the hospital construction. Through that investment, the county got nearly $10,000 in interest from money that otherwise would have been lying idle.

HE LATER spearheaded a movement that eventually resulted in the dissolution by the state supreme court of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District. He not only was

Firm's Executive Admits Thefts

CHICAGO (AP)—A 47-year-old produce company executive was turned over to Chicago police yesterday by the FBI after the FBI said he had admitted embezzling $225,000 from the company in 10 months.

In a written and signed statement to the FBI, police said, Tony Oddo related he had lost the money betting on race horses.

Lt. Ralph Petaque of the police said Oddo, who was secretary of the Windy City Produce Co., related the company was formed a year ago and two months later he began betting large sums of the company's money.

in the thick of the fight for the dissolution, which also had the backing of the Fayette County Farm Bureau, but he also delayed until after the court's decision the collection of taxes that spring in order that farmers of Fayette County would not have to pay an assessment, or tax, for the continued operation of the Scioto-Sandusky District. That tax amounted to nearly $20,000.

The tax was paid by the farmers in most of the other eight counties in the district which faced the almost impossible (and expensive) task of returning the money to those who had paid it. While there is not much he can do about the tax of grain stored under government loan, Fabb has gotten in the spotlight again through his verbal opposition to it. (Please Turn to Page Seven)

Hughes Freed On Perjury Rap

Political Plot Claimed Aimed At McCarthy

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court jury today acquitted Paul H. Hughes on two counts of a six-count perjury indictment. The government apparently abandoned further action and he went free immediately.

The jury of 10 men and two women told Judge Archie O. Dawson it was "hopelessly deadlocked" on the remaining four counts.

Hughes, 35, was charged with lying to a federal grand jury investigating Harvey Matusow, an ex-Communist who turned FBI informant against Red leaders and then recanted his testimony.

Hughes testified he was a tool in a political plot against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Counts 1 and 2 on which he was acquitted charged that in 1954 he falsely swore that he heard Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national head of the pro-New Deal and anti-McCarthy Americans for Democratic Action, discuss by phone with Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor (ret.) arrangements to supply Matusow with financial assistance.

TAYLOR is adviser to the National Committee for a More Effective Congress.

Rauh and Taylor both denied the story on the witness stand.

The two counts also charged that Hughes lied in telling the grand jury that he was present at a meeting in October 1954 with Rauh, Alfred Friendly, managing editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, and Murray Marder.

Hughes had sworn that, at the meeting, it was said that Matusow was in the process of admitting perjury.

Hughes admitted on the witness stand that he trumped up evidence of "illegal activities" against McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee, but contended Rauh and others knew the material was phony.

Rauh and other government witnesses also denied that contention.

Teacher, 5 Boys Burned In 'Prank'

GREENFIELD (AP)—Five boys and a teacher in nearby Buckskin Valley High School were burned in what was described as a "boyish prank" involving use of phosphorus.

Eugene Davis, 16, suffered third degree burns on his left hip and severe burns on hands and face.

School officials said the phosphorus was put in one of Davis' pockets and scattered when he pulled it out. Four other boys and Watson Farrar, the teacher, were burned, the latter when he attempted to aid Davis.

The prankster who put the chemical in Davis' pocket was not identified. School Supt. Edward M. Caldwell, who said the phosphorus was taken from the school laboratory, called it "a boyish prank."

U. S. Air Force Planes Due To Carry Missiles

Head Of Air Defense Tells Of Change Ahead In Military Planning

(By The Associated Press)
There appears the possibility that atomic weapons soon may be stored on U. S. Air Force ground stations in Ohio and that military aircraft flying Buckeye skies soon may be carrying atomic warheads.

This possibility arose today when the commander of the nation's air defenses said atomic weapons soon will be stored at Air Force bases and carried on defense aircraft. But he gave no specific location of bases.

Ohio has at least two major Air Force installations — Wright-Patterson Air Base near Dayton and Lockbourne Air Base near Columbus.

"The day is not far off when we shall have atomic weapons at the various stations in storage and on the planes in flight," Gen. Earle E. Partridge said in an address for a jet age conference of the Air Force Assn.

"This contributes to our determination to remove military flying from municipal or civil airports as soon as possible," he said, but added that will come only "over a period of years" and at a cost of more than $3 billion.

PARTRIDGE, commander in chief of the Continental Air Defense Command said that while defense aircraft are always loaded when on missions, the Air Force has installed "all manner of control sequences" as guards against accidents.

"We are putting more safety features into the controls for the future," Partridge said. "The reason is that the present weapons are only midgets in comparison to what we are going to have."

Partridge said 18 of his command's bases (about one third of its total) are on civil airports, many of them with runways too short for good jet operations.

"We are paying in manpower and busted airplanes because of the short fields from which we operate," he said.

Ohio Winter To Continue Over Weekend

(By The Associated Press)
Continued wintry weather including a nasty weekend is predicted by the weatherman for Ohio.

Here is his five-day extended forecast for the state:

Temperatures will average 2 to 5 degrees below normal, normal high 35 north, 41 south; normal low 19-20. Cold over weekend. Warmer Monday and Tuesday, colder by Wednesday. Rain or snow, Saturday or Sunday and possibly Tuesday. Total precipitation one-half to one inch.

Meanwhile, Old Man Winter held a tight grip on most of the country from the Midwest and plains states westward to the Pacific Coast.

The blast of icy air dipped southward across Texas into western Mexico. It was below freezing this morning in most of Texas, with the cold weather threatening vegetable and citrus areas in the Rio Grande Valley.

More snow fell in western Texas and freezing rain pelted central sections. Many schools closed.

Six deaths were attributed to the stormy weather in Texas. At least six other persons died in causes attributed to the weather, two each in New Mexico, New York and Michigan.

Most severe cold was in western Midwest areas, eastern parts of the Dakotas, Nebraska, and the northern and central Rockies, all reporting near zero or below-zero temperatures. It was -25 in Big Piney, Wyo. and -11 in Bemidji and Alexandria, Minn.

New Russian Bid Fails To Melt Opposition of U.S. To 'Friendship' Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new appeal from Premier Bulganin failed today to melt U. S. opposition to a Soviet-American "friendship treaty" which this government holds to be needless.

In a 2,800-word message made public by the State Department last night, Bulganin urged President Eisenhower to reconsider the 20-year pact proposed by the Russian premier last week and turned down by Eisenhower.

U. S. officials said Bulganin's new message was mainly a rehash of previous arguments for the treaty and that he had not advanced persuasive new ideas.

Eisenhower, in a letter Saturday, had told Bulganin a treaty between Russia and the United States, merely reiterating peaceful behavior pledges already in the United Nations charter, "might indeed work against the cause of peace."

Officials said his letter would be answered in the same courteous vein that has characterized the exchange of almost half a dozen personal messages between the two leaders since the summit conference last July.

Bulganin told Eisenhower Russia would be prepared to make friendship treaties with Britain, France and other countries.

The Soviet leader also reiterated a Russian proposal for a treaty between the Communist Warsaw Pact nations and the powers banded together under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The offer to make treaties with Britain and France was a new element in the latest message.

So was a statement by Bulganin that a U. S.-Soviet friendship treaty "would be of great positive significance in establishing the necessary prerequisites for the solution of the German problem."

American authorities said they did not understand what Bulganin meant by this bait. In the same message he renewed a charge that the United States, Britain and France seek to reestablish "militarism" in all Germany.

Another new element was an invitation by Bulganin for Eisenhower to submit his "thoughts" on provisions of a friendship treaty. He gave assurances that they would receive "the greatest attention."

This was a clear bid for the President to enter into active negotiations on a treaty.

Bulganin cited a record of Soviet activities which he said demonstrated peaceful conduct. And he contended that the United States and other Western powers are increasing their arms spending while the United States is building up military bases near the borders of Russia. By contrast he declared that Russia has reduced its armed forces by 640,000 men, cut its military budget, withdrawn from its Porkkala base in Finland, and pulled its troops out of Austria.

EVEN THE FRENCH Riviera normally a balmy winter spot, reported sub-freezing temperatures. The frost killed an estimated million and a half dollars worth of spring flowers.

After four consecutive days of below-freezing temperatures, most rivers of the Continent were sheets of ice. Boat traffic was halted, crippling movement of badly needed fuel and food. Water and gas mains ruptured. Electric power stations broke down under abnormal demands for heat in homes and factories.

The 37-below reading was reported at Kalenbrunn, West Germany. Mediterranean resort towns along the French and Italian Riviera were covered by snow, which fell as far south as Naples.

Across the Mediterranean, Bone, Algeria, reported its first snowfall in 10 years.

Wind gusts of more than 95 miles an hour added to the misery of the shivering population in Trieste.

The Budapest radio reported the Danube River frozen over its entire reaches and said all rail traffic in Hungary was halted by deep snow.

Torrential rains and heavy snow hit Turkey.

The temperature in Britain sank to 5 degrees above zero yesterday, the coldest day of the century. Storms kept fishing vessels in port.

Fabb Seeks Reelection As County Treasurer

Charles A. Fabb is going to seek reelection as Fayette County's treasurer.

He filed his petitions for the Republican nomination at the May primary election late Thursday.

Charles A. Fabb

Fabb has unconsciously built up a reputation in Court House circles as the "watchdog of the county treasury" through his insistence on careful scrutiny of every item on the county budget. As the treasurer, he is a member of the budget commission.

He also gained considerable recognition for his astute business judgment when he invested the $300,000 from the sale of the bonds for the Memorial Hospital in government bonds until the money was needed to pay for the hospital construction. Through that investment, the county got nearly $10,000 in interest from money that otherwise would have been lying idle.

HE LATER spearheaded a movement that eventually resulted in the dissolution by the state supreme court of the Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District. He not only was

Firm's Executive Admits Thefts

CHICAGO (AP)—A 47-year-old produce company executive was turned over to Chicago police yesterday by the FBI after the FBI said he had admitted embezzling $225,000 from the company in 10 months.

In a written and signed statement to the FBI, police said, Tony Oddo related he had lost the money betting on race horses.

Lt. Ralph Petaque of the police said Oddo, who was secretary of the Windy City Produce Co., related the company was formed a year ago and two months later he began betting large sums of the company's money.

in the thick of the fight for the dissolution, which also had the backing of the Fayette County Farm Bureau, but he also delayed until after the court's decision the collection of taxes that spring in order that farmers of Fayette County would not have to pay an assessment, or tax, for the continued operation of the Scioto-Sandusky District. That tax amounted to nearly $20,000.

The tax was paid by the farmers in most of the other eight counties in the district which faced the almost impossible (and expensive) task of returning the money to those who had paid it.

While there is not much he can do about the tax of grain stored under government loan, Fabb has gotten in the spotlight again through his verbal opposition to it.

Hughes Freed On Perjury Rap

Political Plot Claimed Aimed At McCarthy

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court jury today acquitted Paul H. Hughes on two counts of a six-count perjury indictment. The government apparently abandoned further action and he went free immediately.

The jury of 10 men and two women told Judge Archie O. Dawson it was "hopelessly deadlocked" on the remaining four counts.

Hughes, 35, was charged with lying to a federal grand jury investigating Harvey Matusow, an ex-Communist who turned FBI informant against Red leaders and then recanted his testimony.

Hughes testified he was a tool in a political plot against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Counts 1 and 2 on which he was acquitted charged that in 1954 he falsely swore that he heard Joseph L. Rauh Jr., national head of the pro-New Deal and anti-McCarthy Americans for Democratic Action, discuss by phone with Brig. Gen. Telford Taylor (ret.) arrangements to supply Matusow with financial assistance.

TAYLOR is adviser to the National Committee for a More Effective Congress.

Rauh and Taylor both denied the story on the witness stand.

The two counts also charged that Hughes lied in telling the grand jury that he was present at a meeting in October 1954 with Rauh, Alfred Friendly, managing editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, and Murray Marder.

Hughes had sworn that, at the meeting, it was said that Matusow was in the process of admitting perjury.

Hughes admitted on the witness stand that he trumped up evidence of "illegal activities" against McCarthy's Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee, but contended Rauh and others knew the material was phony.

Rauh and other government witnesses also denied that contention.

Teacher, 5 Boys Burned In 'Prank'

GREENFIELD (AP)—Five boys and a teacher in nearby Buckskin Valley High School were burned in what was described as a "boyish prank" involving use of phosphorus.

Eugene Davis, 16, suffered third degree burns on his left hip and severe burns on hands and face.

School officials said the phosphorus was put in one of Davis' pockets and scattered when he pulled it out. Four other boys and Watson Farrar, the teacher, were burned, the latter when he attempted to aid Davis.

The prankster who put the chemical in Davis' pocket was not identified. School Supt. Edward M. Caldwell, who said the phosphorus was taken from the school laboratory, called it "a boyish prank."

Young Policeman Now City Auditor

IRONTON (AP)—A 23-year-old policeman has taken over as Ironton's city auditor.

Peter Burke, after two years of pounding a beat, was appointed by a 4-2 council vote to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Paul Sutton, who resigned to take a position in Kettering.

U. S. Air Force Planes Due To Carry Missiles

Head Of Air Defense Tells Of Change Ahead In Military Planning

(By The Associated Press)

There appears the possibility that atomic weapons soon may be stored on U. S. Air Force ground stations in Ohio and that military aircraft flying Buckeye skies soon may be carrying atomic warheads.

This possibility arose today when the commander of the nation's air defenses said atomic weapons soon will be stored at Air Force bases and carried on defense aircraft. But he gave no specific location of bases.

Ohio has at least two major Air Force installations — Wright-Patterson Air Base near Dayton and Lockbourne Air Base near Columbus.

"The day is not far off when we shall have atomic weapons at the various stations in storage and on the planes in flight," Gen. Earle E. Partridge said in an address for a jet age conference of the Air Force Assn.

"This contributes to our determination to remove military flying from municipal or civil airports as soon as possible," he said, but added that will come only "over a period of years" and at a cost of more than $3 billion.

PARTRIDGE, commander in chief of the Continental Air Defense Command said that while defense aircraft are always loaded when on missions, the Air Force has installed "all manner of control sequences" as guards against accidents.

"We are putting more safety features into the controls for the future," Partridge said. "The reason is that the present weapons are only midgets in comparison to what we are going to have."

Partridge said 18 of his command's bases (about one third of its total) are on civil airports, many of them with runways too short for good jet operations.

"We are paying in manpower and busted airplanes because of the short fields from which we operate," he said.

Ohio Winter To Continue Over Weekend

(By The Associated Press)

Continued wintry weather including a nasty weekend is predicted by the weatherman for Ohio.

Here is his five-day extended forecast for the state:

Temperatures will average 2 to 5 degrees below normal, normal high 35 north, 41 south; normal low 19-20. Cold over weekend. Warmer Monday and Tuesday, colder by Wednesday. Rain or snow Saturday or Sunday and possibly Tuesday. Total precipitation one-half to one inch.

Meanwhile, Old Man Winter held a tight grip on most of the country from the Midwest and plains states westward to the Pacific Coast.

The blast of icy air dipped southward across Texas into western Mexico. It was below freezing this morning in most of Texas, with the cold weather threatening vegetable and citrus areas in the Rio Grande Valley.

More snow fell in western Texas and freezing rain pelted central sections. Many schools closed.

Six deaths were attributed to the stormy weather in Texas. At least six other persons died in causes attributed to the weather, two each in New Mexico, New York and Michigan.

Most severe cold was in western Midwest areas, eastern parts of the Dakotas, Nebraska, and the northern and central Rockies, all reporting near zero or below-zero temperatures. It was -25 in Big Piney, Wyo. and -11 in Bemidji and Alexandria, Minn.

Ike, Mamie Ready For Vote Register

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower pondered Russia's new "peace" overture today as he prepared to sign up for an enterprise in which he obviously had more faith—America's 1956 election.

Eisenhower and his wife arranged to register as voters at Adams County's yellow-painted courthouse.

Cancer Crusade Leaders To Meet

Five From Here To Attend Session

At least five Fayette Countians will be among American Cancer Society workers from all over the nation at Saturday's national campaign meeting in Cincinnati.

Hundreds of cancer fund chairman and key campaign workers will meet with scientists and publicity leaders to plan the 1956 cancer crusade.

On hand for the meeting will be Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reed, Mr. and Mrs. James Perrill and Mrs. William Junk.

Mrs. Reed is executive secretary of the Fayette County unit of the American Cancer Society; Mrs. Perrill is campaign chairman for the rural areas of the county and Mrs. Junk is campaign chairman for Washington C. H.

Dr. and Mrs. N. M. Reiff will also attend the meeting "if possible," Mrs. Reiff said Friday. She is the president of the county unit of the American Cancer Society.

HIGHLIGHTS of the meeting will include talks by three persons who were cured of cancer when their cases were diagnosed and treated in time.

The three—a television star, a young girl and a six-year-old boy—will tell how their lives were saved.

Aim of the meeting is to plan a successful fund campaign, slated for the month of April.

To be introduced to campaign workers is the 1956 cancer crusade slogan: "Fight cancer with a checkup and a check."

The slogan underscores the double purpose of the drive—to educate the public to the need for periodic checkups and to raise the money needed to continue medical research.

PTA Council Sets New Meeting Date

The PTA Council has switched the date of what its president, Mrs. Warner Penrod, calls "an important meeting."

To be held at 7:30 P. M. Tuesday in the High School cafeteria, the meeting was originally set for the previous night.

Features of the meeting will be naming of the nominating committee to draw up a slate of candidates for council officers; and reports by Supt. W. A. Smith, the ways and means committee and the scholarship committee.

MANY COMPLAINTS

CHILLICOTHE—A flood of sewer complaints was made during the recent heavy rains, and council is taking steps to have the situation remedied as quickly as possible.

Banks of County Pay $36,677 Tax

Institutions Taxed On All Deposits

Paying some other person's taxes is certainly unusual, to put it mildly, but Ohio banks continue to do must that each year, both for their depositors and their stockholders, says a statement issued by the Ohio Bankers' Association.

"In fact, according to the Ohio Bankers Association, the banks of the state paid approximately $15,000,000 in such taxes last year, even though the law says those taxes actually were owned by the customers and shareholders of the financial institutions. This was covered in the annual report just issued by the Department of Taxation. A statement by the association says:

"Here in Fayette County, the banks paid such taxes in the amount of $36,677 for the last year reported by the department. "The intangibles tax was levied many years ago on deposits in financial institutions, and on the capital stock of such institutions. Such deposits and stock are, of course, owned by individuals and corporations. . . not by the banks themselves. Nevertheless, banks have always elected to absorb these taxes, as was done last year. "The State Department of Taxation thinks it's a swell idea, of course. It's much simpler to collect from about 630 banks than it would be from about four million depositors and stock holders."

Work On Building
Halted By Weather

Work on the city's new equipment building, to be erected on city property at the north end of Fayette Street, which was halted by the severe weather last month, is to be resumed as soon as weather permits. The footers were laid and next will come the concrete foundation walls. After this, the task of erecting the pre-fabricated steel building produced by the Armo Co. will get under way. Street and sewage department equipment will be housed in the structure.

Milledgeville Cubs Turn Into Pirates

The youngsters of Milledgeville Cub Pack 303 turned into pirates for their last meeting.

It was all in play—the Milledgeville School had no Jolly Roger flying overhead while the meeting was underway—but the boys made the best of their roles.

First they held a treasure hunt by way of sticking to their theme for the evening, and then each Cub read a short selection on pirates.

Another feature of the meeting was a playlet pantomimed by the boys as Mrs. Robert Creamer, the den mother, read aloud.

Cubmaster Charles Hiser was in charge of the meeting and J. P. Morgan led the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

During the business session, the boys laid plans for a Boy Scout Week display to be put in the window of a Milledgeville store.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Creamer, Mrs. Hiser, Mrs. Gene Klontz and Mrs. Willard Dice. The boys at the meeting were Randy Dice, Vernon Klontz, Billy Creamer, Curtis Hiser, J. P. Morgan, Roger Hodge and Johnny Bartruff.

Ohio Minister Loses Invite To Deep South

OXFORD, Miss.—The Rev. Alvin Kershaw, the Episcopal rector who gained nationwide attention as a $32,000 winner on a television quiz program, has been removed from the list of speakers for the University of Mississippi's "Religious Emphasis Week."

Rev. Mr. Kershaw disclosed last night that the invitation for him to speak at the university on Feb. 19 had been withdrawn, apparently because of his views on racial segregation.

He declared: "Whenever our democratic heritage is denied, the loss to our national health is painful to contemplate. Wherever a university forfeits its role as the matrix of open academic discussion, of free inquiry, of responsible consideration of alternate positions in any issue, the loss to human growth and enlightenment is tragic to contemplate."

"As a clergyman, I cannot but be filled with sorrow at this additional example of what demonic tragedies can spring from the pride, sickness and pretensions of human beings."

The controversy over Rev. Mr. Kershaw's appearance at Mississippi stemmed from reports that he would give part of his quiz show winnings to the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Rev. Mr. Kershaw said he received a telegram last night from J. D. Williams, chancellor of the University of Mississippi, canceling the speaking date.

Rev. Mr. Kershaw was to have spoken on the subject of "Religious Resources in Contemporary Drama."

"Mary Hawthorth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In my late teens I met and loved a girl very deeply, with all the intensity of youth and first love. We realized finally that we could never really find happiness together and that inevitably our relationship would have to end, although I felt then that I would never love again in quite the same way.

In the years since, I have known one or two other loves, but something was missing. I wondered if I had lost the capacity for love, if I no longer felt a genuine emotion. In loneliness I concluded I had better settle for the reality of wife and home, and let my dream of love remain a dream.

I let myself be rushed into courtship and hasty marriage, against my better judgment and minus my family's approval, but I was a willing victim. I married for all the wrong reasons. It wasn't that I loved or wanted the girl; but I felt that of all the persons I might have wronged, I had done her the greatest injustice, and I felt sorry for her. Also I wanted to show my family that I intended to lead my own life, and I was tired of what seemed a fruitless search for the "right" girl.

Stupid Mistake
I knew from the beginning that it was a stupid mistake, that it was wrong, but I decided to try to make the best of it. I even hoped it might prove to be a blessing in disguise and grow into a deep abiding love.

We both have tried, but neither of us is honestly happy. There is no "other woman" and we have no special problems.

I wonder if it isn't better to be alone and lonely than to live a lie and detest yourself.

My wife has been a good wife in every sense of the word and I don't want to hurt her, for she may really love me although why she should I don't know. But I haven't made her happy and I believe she deserves more than I have given her or can offer her. Just living together isn't enough.

There must be more to life than this; and the only way I can find it is to be in a position to contribute something of myself—to give of myself and to WANT to give. I don't know where that opportunity may be; but it certainly isn't to be found in my present circumstances. What do you think?

C. B.
DEAR C. B.: You say you married for all the wrong reasons. But as I get the picture, you married a girl who loved you or who was so infatuated, or wanted you so much, that she was willing, at the price for the privilege, and to take upon herself full responsibility (or blame) for the outcome, insofar as her happiness was concerned.

I think you married your wife for reasons of her own. She was the initiator. You were the passive party, and "willing victim" as you say, primarily because you had lost (if indeed you'd ever had) the capacity to care positively for another person. In short, you were relying upon her ardor, her devotional intensity, to compensate for your emotional paralysis, figuratively speaking.

Now you are somewhere in middle age, I gather; and bothered as the lengthening past seems to be gaining on the future prospect—so that you feel there is too little time left, in which to salvage all that you've missed, en route. In this mood you are trying to take stock, in a blindfolded sort of way, to determine just what your losses have been; and how they came about; and how you may recoup.

Punish Parents?
It seems you have a hunch that you got off on the wrong road, and thereby forfeited growth towards happiness, when you broke with your first sweetheart. Was the break induced by your family? Is that why you defied the family later, when getting married? Were you determined to show them you'd lead your life your own way? Perhaps your real unconscious de-

Your Income Tax

Editor's Note: Following is the fifth in a series of ten articles telling how to make out a tax return on your 1955 income.

By FRANK O'BRIEN
AP Staff Writer

Reporting your income for income tax is basically the simple process of reducing your total income to your taxable income.

The tax law gives you three main ways of whittling your total income down to the amount is taxable. These are—exemptions, deductions and exclusions. Exemptions, discussed in the second article of this series, gives you a tax-free living allowance of $600 for each person dependent on your income.

M. H.
Deductions and exclusions are both deductions, but with a difference. You get deductions, discussed in the third article of this series, according to the way you spend your income—you don't have to pay tax on income, for instance, that you spend in paying interest.

Exclusions (which, in company with a discussion of who must make estimated tax payments, is the subject of this article) depend not on how you spend your income, but on how you receive it. That is, some of your income is not subject to tax because of its origin. Consequently, exclusions are dealt with separately and differently from deductions.

MANY of your exclusions never show up in your tax return. This is because they are exempt in income—income that need not be reported at all. Other exclusions are only partial. In such cases, you show the income in your return, then deduct part of it. The instructions booklet that comes with your tax return does not (as it does for deductions) discuss exclusions in one easily distinguishable section. So here is an extensive outline of excludable income.

First, the exempt income, that need not be reported:

Gifts (this must be money or something else of value for which you performed no service whatever)—inheritances—death benefits of life insurance policies—

AN EXCLUSION may also be partial only in the case of a parsonage, if a cash rental allowance, instead of a parsonage, is provided. The cash allowance may be excluded from taxable income only to the extent it is used to pay rent or purchase a home. Pension pay, to be dealt with in a special article, may also be partly excluded from your taxable income.

If your employer transfers you, the expense money he gives you for the move may be excluded up to the amount actually spent in moving. Employees need not report as income the value of meals they receive from the employer when the meals are taken at the place of business and for the employer's convenience. Lodging received from your employer need not be reported, if the lodging is at the place of business, the employee lives in for the convenience of the employer, and if living in is a condition of the job.

Whether the meals and lodging exclusions apply to domestics is something the Revenue Service is still mulling over. There is a good chance the Service will rule that amounts up to $5,000 given by an employer to the family of a deceased employee (if more than one employer donates, the total tax-free is still $5,000)—federal and state social security benefits and railroad retirement act benefits—workmen's compensation benefits—interest on state and municipal bonds—all government payments and benefits to veterans (except retirement pay not connected with a disability, and interest on terminal leave bonds)—armed forces pay due to active service in a combat zone from June 24, 1950 to Feb. 1, 1955 (officers can exclude up to $200 a month only)—benefits from accident and health insurance policies (where financed by an employer, only the amounts for medical care, or to compensate for injury, can be excluded)—income earned abroad, under certain conditions—rental value of a parsonage lived in by a minister, priest or rabbi—subsistence pay to policemen, when provided by law, up to $5 a day—subsistence and rental allowances to members of the armed forces (such pay is usually excluded for you by not being included on the withholding form issued by the armed services).

The exclusion for pay you receive from your employer while you are absent from work due to sickness or injury—discussed in Article No. 3—is an example of a partial exclusion. The law limits the exclusion to a rate of $100 a week, where the employee has not contributed to his sick pay plan.

THE withholding rates on wages are not sufficient to keep some taxpayers fully paid up. Consequently some taxpayers are required to file (by April 15, except in the case of farmers, who get until Jan. 15, 1957) a Declaration of Estimated Tax and make quarterly payments. You do this on special Form 1040-ES. This is mailed to most taxpayers who have been estimating. You can get the form from any Revenue office, and from banks, postoffices and other public places.

THOSE who must estimate fall into two classes. The first class is in the case of domestics the "place of business" is the employer's home, and that the exclusions therefore do apply.

Prizes and awards are tax exempt only if you do nothing to get the prize (you must not even enter a contest), and you are not required as a condition of the prize to perform any "substantial future service." These provisions make radio and TV giveaway prizes, in most cases, taxable.

Most scholarships and fellowship grants are tax exempt, but subject to a number of restrictions. The grantor is usually well informed on the tax treatment of his grant, and it is best to get advice from him.

Who must file an estimated tax form, and make estimated tax payments?

taxpayers whose total income can reasonably be expected to consist of wages subject to withholding and not more than $100 of other income, and to exceed:

1. $10,000 in the case of a taxpayer in the special head of household class, or a widow or widower entitled to special tax rates.

2. $5,000 for other single taxpayers.

3. $5,000 for a married individual NOT entitled to file a joint return.

4. $5,000 for a married individual entitled to file a joint return, where the combined income of husband and wife will exceed $10,000.

The second class consists of taxpayers whose total income can reasonably be expected to include more than $100 not subject to withholding, and to exceed the sum of the following:

1. $600 for each of the taxpayer's exemptions.

2. Plus $400.

Penalties for under-estimating are mandatory. They are described on page 13 of the instructions booklet. But—you cannot be penalized if you estimate your 1956 income to be the same as your 1955 income, and if you compute the tax on the tax rates in effect when you file your declaration for 1956.

Artis Found Guilty Of Evading Taxes

Earl Artis, 55, Xenia, was found guilty on two accounts of willful evasion of federal taxes, following a lengthy hearing in federal court at Dayton.

Artis was charged by the government with owing $54,041.62 in back taxes covering the years 1943, 1949 and 1950.

He was found not guilty of tax evasion in 1948 but guilty of evading taxes in 1949 and 1950.

Artis faces a maximum of five years in prison and $10,000 fine on each count. Officials claim Artis was formerly a well known numbers "king".

Another case is pending against Artis in which the government seeks $36,757 with interest since 1948 and 1950.

In manufacturing, the number of persons who voluntarily quit their jobs each month runs more than 2 percent of the labor force, says the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

The Growing Number Of Women In Business

During the course of a recent animated discussion among a group of members of a small club in Washington C. H., composed of both women and men, the subject came up regarding the number of women who are working in stores, offices and factories in this city and how this number has grown within the past several years.

One of the members insisted, and perhaps was correct, that the number employed here was no greater a percentage of the population than in other communities, maybe less, as compared with big cities.

As the years have passed in the last third of a century or more, this growth of women workers outside the homes, is being attributed to the fact that our civilization is becoming both more complex and more expensive.

Most of the older generation can well remember when the division of responsibility in American family life was much more clearly defined than at present.

The husband was the breadwinner in those days and "woman's place was in the home" in the opinion of most people. That however, was before the days of ranch-type homes, television, two - automobile garages, oil heaters, nylon hose, five-dollar neckties, twenty - five dollar shoes, and credit on everything from furniture to car insurance.

In those days life seemed more simple.

The housewife baked and ironed and washed; her "work was never done." The master of the homestead came home at night completely tuckered out, or so he said. His wife often wished she knew. There were times when she doubted his labors at office or plant were half as irksome as keeping the house presentable.

As times changed the head of the house found himself falling behind, with so many new things to buy for the home—paying doctor bills, sending the children to college, and keeping up the insurance. His wife and perhaps the older of his daughters discarded their aprons and ventured into the marts of trade. They liked what they found—the eight-hour day, the excitement of earning their way, the paycheck.

Now there are 11,800,000 working wives in this country, 600,000 more than last year. The Census Bureau couldn't suppress its surprise at discovering there are only 5,100,000 single women in jobs. Single women, reports the Bureau, have two primary ambitions. They are going to school or getting married. But once they marry, many of them also get a job outside the home. Two can't live as cheaply as three once did, but with two paychecks coming in, they have found they can manage pretty well.

What Virtues In TV Ads?

NEW YORK — The other morning as I was going to work, my eye was caught by my daughter.

She was lying flat on the floor working over her post-breakfast bottle. She was staring at our television screen showing a grown-up-kiddie - looking fellow who himself was sucking at an imitation bottle whose theoretical contents were visibly lowered as he said something like this:

"All right, kiddies, it's milk time. Let's go now. Not too fast, but—"

Well, I simply stood there fascinated. I was steeled by awe and fear of the art of advertising. I wondered how soon my daughter, having been sold on the virtues of milk, would start worrying about deodorants.

Somewhere, clover sweet as she is at 2½ years old, I hugged the idea that Tracy Ann, my daughter, would earn femininity from her mother, my wife. I don't want my child to learn delicacy from an ad man's pitch.

What is the impact of television on the average family? What is right and what is wrong with television up till now?

Here are a few off-the-cuff observations of the new one-eyed monster, in our living room:

My daughter likes to identify Pinky Lee, Lassie, Rin-Tin-Tin, the Lone Ranger and other staple childhood fodder (she likes Ollie the dragon but is suspicious of Howdy Doodie), then usually walks away. Having survived the shock of recognition, she returns to her old friends, her toys.

Ancient cartoons with dubbed-in voices bore her within 30 seconds, and she walks away. She also will do this to canned meat if it is put on her plate. She has an unerring appetite for freshness, and likes "Captain Kangaroo" because it is alive.

Both her father and mother also will refuse to follow canned family situation comedies because they are unreal and tiresome, and because canned laughter doesn't make them feel very jolly. Most of their friends who can read without moving their lips feel the same way.

Tracy Ann and her parents enjoy, sometimes more than the show they carry, bright, tuneful illustrated commercials. We hum 'em in our house.

A live show stirs us more than a filmed show, and we'll rove the dial to get one that is alive. There are exceptions, but they only prove the rule.

One of the things that destroys realism most is to have an artist perform a role, then step out of character and immediately make a sales pitch.

This form of commercialism reduces the magic and illusion and force of art. Edward Mearns and John Daly are among the pioneers who have had the courage and common sense to realize this. They have done their sponsors a favor by abstaining from it.

The duty of the artist in television today is to gain an audience. To ask him to go on from there is to demand both himself and the product he is required to plug. Both are needlessly cheapened.

Commercialism is necessary in television, but not in that manner. It will do out as more artists made more money, can afford to be more independent, and the realization grows that there are better ways to put a message across.

Unappetizing Food Of Hospitals

No hospital diet is expected to be something out of "Pavilion" or "Twenty One" or any of the emporiums of gustatory excellence. But food never need be quite as poorly or unimaginatively cooked as my unsalted, unsugared, uncreamed diet. I think they did a better job for Ike out in Denver. Here imagination is taboo because hospitals in big cities have a tough time with their staffs and the probability is that if anybody criticized the cook, he would rejoin the army.

There is no use kicking because I am now told that mental distress causes more heart damage than physical exertion. Maybe, it is propaganda to keep me from kicking off maybe it is true. I am to have no frustrations, no anxieties, no worries. I am just to lie here and vegetate—hibernate, I think is the word, the doctor says. Then the heart will mend more quickly.

So, it is true what the poet said of the broken heart. And when one says that so-and-so died of a broken heart, it makes some sense. But how much? And why for some and not for others? Some fellows are constantly being frustrated and nothing ever happens to them. Maybe, they carry what some of my colleagues call a "torch" but that is just another way of self-advertisement. He tells everybody his troubles about the torch. The fellow who can talk about it so freely does not really have a broken heart. He will probably live to sing the praises of his or three more unrequited loves.

Personally, I do not mind a diet without salt. I never add any when food is brought to the table. There is enough sodium in most things to satisfy my tastes, but hospital food has a dullness all its own. It is designed to keep a patient from ever wanting to go to a hospital again. All he will need to do is think of the hospital meal and he will immediately get well or drop dead.

Of course, there must be hospitals which serve food that I would not be ashamed to give to my keeshond, Joe, but is such there he, I have not come across them. Go mark them well and ask the Ford Foundation to preserve them!

Another hospital problem is help. They try to manage a three-shift operation with two shifts to conform to the 40-hour week. This applies to all sorts of technicians from the fat lady who brings in the tray and dusts the furniture to those skilled needlestickers and cardiogram takers. They all work 40 hours a week, come what may. Nurses and doctors can work themselves to a frazzle around the clock but not the technicians. They are superior help and always in a hurry.

Although I am not supposed to talk much, the habit is strong with me and I try to ask each technician as many questions as possible. Usually there are no replies because technicians are very serious-minded folk who must look serious as a badge of distinction.

I am supposed to be in absolute repose, so when I want to talk I get another pill to knock me out of repose. What doctors do not understand is that a fellow who has discussed about everything hither and yon for 60 years, more or less, does not readily take to silence without an internal revolution. Of course, sometimes a fellow talks a lot not to hear what others say. It is a defensive mechanism. This silence, I must admit, is getting me down. They permit no visitors, so there is no one to dispute with, even about the merits of unsalted, horribly cooked food. They do permit me to read newspapers and occasionally one sees a good argument in one of them, like Rosebud Drummond rooting to make Milton Eisenhower president. As I read Drummond's argument, Milton is a better man than Ike and if you don't want Milton, why in heaven would you want Ike?

I never thought of that before and as I have nothing to do but gaze at beige walls and dull shades and nobody to talk to, I shall devote myself a little to Drummond's argument to see whether the logic is with him. I fear the Republicans will not like Drummond's thesis because if Ike should decide to run, would it then not be smart for the Democrats to nominate the superior man, Milton Eisenhower? The logic would seem to be in that proposition—still and all. I shall give it further consideration.

I am advised by many to discontinue this scribbling during my tenancy in a hospital bed. My doctors permit it only as a compromise with evil habits. For 40 years now, I have daily scribbled something in long-hand. The habit is as much insular as intellectual. It has been my own form of regular exercise. They are taking a chance with it, possibly to keep me from writing on the bed sheets and the nurses' uniforms. They say that if it shows bad results, they will knock me out with a hypodermic. Trotsky once knocked me out with a revolution. Who knows what one can survive?

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
This is the season for colds and bronchitis.

Ordinarily, acute bronchitis is a mild disease, but it can be uncomfortable. And, of course there always is danger of complications such as pneumonia.

A sore throat, pains in the muscles and back, chilliness and a general poor feeling usually are the first symptoms. The temperature, in simple cases, probably will climb to 101 to 102 degrees and remain there for as long as three to five days.

Dry Cough

Coughing at first will be dry, but within a couple of days you will be able to bring up bronchial secretions. Coughing actually helps recovery.

Since acute bronchitis frequently is caused by a cold or an influenza virus, your best bet for avoiding it is to keep up your general health. Avoid exposure and becoming tired and chilled.

Once the symptoms begin, however, you should go to bed and stay there until your fever has subsided.

It's probably best to stick to a bland diet, avoiding fried foods, pastry, raw fruits or vegetables, strong cheese, rich desserts, spices, coffee and meat broths.

Milk, of course, is the basis of any bland diet.

Your doctor probably may advised a codeine mixture to control your cough. If coughing is irritating and continuous, he probably will suggest a steam vaporizer be used in the sickroom constantly to keep the air humid.

Mustard Plaster

A sore chest usually can be relieved by a flaxseed poultice or an old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Penicillin or sulfonamides may be called for if your fever remains high for any length of time, but should only be taken under the direction of the doctor.

Once the attack is over, take it easy for several days. Don't rush back to work or leap into your normal daily routine. Failure to follow this advice might land you right back in bed.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

MR. W.: Recently, I have noticed blood in my bowel movement. Could this be due to ulcers in the stomach?

ANSWER: Blood in the bowel movement comes from many causes.

It may be due to ulcer in the stomach or intestine, infection in the bowel, general blood diseases, such as hemophilia and purpura, or to a polyp of the rectum, hemorrhoids, or tumor.

You should consult your physician concerning the cause and proper treatment.

Brother Too Weak For Burglary Job

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (P)—Joe and William Elbers, brothers, were on trial on charges of stealing a safe.

Joe, 34, insisted he pulled the job all by himself and demonstrated by lifting the 300-pound safe to the witness stand in Criminal Court.

"That was about the same height from the ground as the trunk of the car," Joe said.

The jury acquitted William, 42. Joe was convicted of burglary and is awaiting sentence.

792 Tax Measures OK'd By Ohioans At Polls During 1955

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Ohio voters last year approved 201 school bond issue and 591 special school operating levies, the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research reported today after a survey.

The approved bond issues called for the expenditure of $123,216,000 for school construction—$68,685,000 in cities $10,039,000 in exempted village school districts and $42,000 in local school districts.

The city total is the highest in the 20 years the OSU bureau has kept such records. The exempted village total is only slightly below the 1954 all-time record. The local district total also is the second highest on record.

In the operating levy category, city voters approved 70 of 73 submitted, exempted village voters rejected only one of 41 and local district voters approved 481 of 491.

The Growing Number Of Women In Business

During the course of a recent animated discussion among a group of members of a small club in Washington C. H., composed of both women and men, the subject came up regarding the number of women who are working in stores, offices and factories in this city and how this number has grown within the past several years.

One of the members insisted, and perhaps was correct, that the number employed here was no greater a percentage of the population than in other communities, maybe less, as compared with big cities.

As the years have passed in the last third of a century of more, this growth of women workers outside the homes, is being attributed to the fact that our civilization is becoming both more complex and more expensive.

Most of the older generation can well remember when the division of responsibility in American family life was much more clearly defined than at present.

The husband was the bread-winner in those days and "woman's place was in the home" in the opinion of most people. That however, was before the days of ranch-type homes, television, two - automobile garages, oil heaters, nylon hose, five-dollar neckties, twenty - five dollar shoes, and credit on everything from furniture to car insurance.

In those days life seemed more simple.

The housewife baked and ironed and washed; her "work was never done." The master of the homestead came home at night completely tuckered out, or so he said. His wife often wished she knew. There were times when she doubted his labors at office or plant were half as irksome as keeping the house presentable.

As times changed the head of the house found himself falling behind, with so many new things to buy for the home—paying doctor bills, sending the children to college, and keeping up the insurance. His wife and perhaps the older of his daughters discarded their aprons and ventured into the marts of trade. They liked what they found—the eight-hour day, the excitement of earning their way, the paycheck.

Now there are 11,800,000 working wives in this country, 600,000 more than last year. The Census Bureau couldn't suppress its surprise at discovering there are only 5,100,000 single women in jobs. Single women, reports the Bureau, have two primary ambitions. They are going to school or getting married. But once they marry, many of them also get a job outside the home. Two can't live as cheaply as three once did, but with two paychecks coming in, they have found they can manage pretty well.

What Virtues In TV Ads?

NEW YORK (AP) — The other morning as I was going to work, my eye was caught by my daughter.

She was lying flat on the floor working over her post-breakfast bottle. She was staring at our television screen showing a grown-up-but-kiddie - looking fellow who himself was sucking at an imitation bottle whose theoretical contents were visibly lowered as he said something like this:

"All right, kiddies, it's milk time. Let's go now. Not too fast, but—"

Well, I simply stood there fascinated. I was swept by awe and fear of the art of advertising. I wondered how soon my daughter, having been sold on the virtues of milk, would start worrying about deodorants.

Somewhat, clover sweet as she is at 2½ years old, I hugged the idea that Tracy Ann, my daughter, would earn femininity from her mother, my wife. I don't want my child to learn delicacy from an ad man's pitch.

What is the impact of television on the average family? What is right and what is wrong with television up till now?

Here are a few off-the-cuff observations of the new one-eyed monster in our living room:

My daughter likes to identify Pinky Lee, Lassie, Rin-Tin-Tin, the Lone Ranger and other staple childhood fodder (she likes Ollie the dragon but is suspicious of Howdy Doody), then usually walks away. Having survived the shock of recognition, she returns to her old friends, her toys.

Ancient cartoons with dubbed-in voices bore her within 30 seconds, and she walks away. She also will do this to canned meat if it is put on her plate. She has an unerring appetite for freshness, and likes "Captain Kangaroo" because it is alive.

Both her father and mother also will refuse to follow canned family situation comedies because they are unreal and tiresome, and because canned laughter doesn't make them feel very jolly. Most of their friends who can read without moving their lips feel the same way.

Tracy Ann and her parents enjoy, sometimes more than the show they carry, bright, tenuous illustrated commercials. We hum 'em in our house.

A live show stirs us more than a filmed show, and we'll rove the dial to get one that is alive. There are exceptions, but they only prove the rule.

One of the things that destroys realism most is to have an artist perform a role, then step out of character and immediately make a sales pitch.

This form of commercialism reduces the magic and illusion and force of art. Edward Mearrow and John Daly are among the pioneers who have had the courage and common sense to realize this. They have done their sponsors a favor by abstaining from it.

The duty of the artist in television today is to gain an audience. To ask him to go on from there is to demean both himself and the product he is required to plug. Both are needlessly cheapened.

Commercialism is necessary in television, but not in that manner. It will die out as more artists made more money, can afford to be more independent, and the realization grows that there are better ways to put a message across.

Unappetizing Food Of Hospitals

No hospital diet is expected to be something out of "Pavilion" or "Twenty One" or any of the emporiums of gustatory excellence. But food never need be quite as poorly or unimaginatively cooked as my unsalted, unsugared, uncreamed diet. I think they did a better job for Ike out in Denver. Here imagination is taboo because hospitals in big cities have a tough time with their staffs and the probability is that if anybody criticized the cook, he would rejoin the army.

There is no use kicking because I am now told that mental distress causes more heart damage than physical exertion. Maybe, it is propaganda to keep me from kicking or maybe it is true. I am to have no frustrations, no anxieties, no worries. I am just to lie here and vegetate—hibernate, I think is the word, the doctor uses. Then the heart will mend more quickly.

So, it is true what the poet said of the broken heart. And when one says that so-and-so died of a broken heart, it makes some sense. But how much? And why for some and not for others? Some fellows are constantly being frustrated and nothing ever happens to them. Maybe, they carry what some of my colleagues call a "torch" but that is just another way of self-advertisement. He tells everybody his troubles about the torch. The fellow who can talk about it so freely does not really have a broken heart. He will probably live to sing the praises of two or three more unrequited loves.

Personally, I do not mind a diet without salt. I never add any when food is brought to the table. There is enough sodium in most things to satisfy my tastes, but hospital food has a dullness all its own. It is designed to keep a patient from ever wanting to go to a hospital again. All he will need to do is think of the hospital meal and he will immediately get well or drop dead.

Of course, there must be hospitals which serve food that I would not be ashamed to give to my keeshond, Joe, but is such there be, I have not come across them. Go mark them well and ask the Ford Foundation to preserve them!

Another hospital problem is help. They try to manage a three-shift operation with two shifts to conform to the 40-hour week. This applies to all sorts of technicians from the fat lady who brings in the tray and dusts the furniture to those skilled needlestickers and cardiogram takers. They all work 40 hours a week, come what may. Nurses and doctors can work themselves to a frazzle around the clock but not the technicians. They are superior help and always in a hurry.

Although I am not supposed to talk much, the habit is strong with me and I try to ask each technician as many questions as possible. Usually there are no replies because technicians are very serious-minded folk who must look serious as a badge of distinction.

I am supposed to be in absolute repose, so when I want to talk I get another pill to knock me out of repose. What doctors do not understand is that a fellow who has discussed about everything hither and yon for 60 years, more or less, does not readily take to silence without an internal revolution. Of course, sometimes a fellow talks a lot not to hear what others say. It is a defensive mechanism. This silence, I must admit I sgeting me down. They permit no visitors, so there is no one to dispute with, even about the merits of unsalted, horribly cooked food. They do permit me to read newspapers and occasionally one sees a good argument in one of them, like Roscoe Drummond rooting to make Milton Eisenhower president. As I read Drummond's argument, Milton is a better man than Ike and if you don't want Milton, why in heaven would you want Ike?

I never thought of that before and as I have nothing to do but gaze at beige walls and dull desks and nobody to talk to, I shall devote myself a little to Drummond's argument to see whether the logic is with him. I fear the Republicans will not like Drummond's thesis because if Ike should decide to run, would it then not be smart for the Democrats to nominate the superior man, Milton Eisenhower? The logic would seem to be in that proposition—still and all, I shall give it further consideration.

I am advised by many to discontinue this scribbling during my tenancy in a hospital bed. My doctors permit it only as a compromise with evil habits. For 40 years now, I have daily scribbled something in long-hand. The habit is as much muscular as intellectual. It has been my own form of regular exercise. They are taking a chance with it, possibly to keep me from writing on the bed sheets and the nurses' uniforms. They say that if it shows bad results, they will knock me out with a hypodermic. Trotsky once knocked me out with a revolution. Who knows what one can survive?

Diet and Health

Complications Feared In Acute Bronchitis

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
This is the season for colds and bronchitis.

Ordinarily, acute bronchitis is a mild disease, but it can be uncomfortable. And, of course there always is danger of complications such as pneumonia.

A sore throat, pains in the muscles and back, chilliness and a general poor feeling usually are the first symptoms. The temperature, in simple cases, probably will climb to 101 to 102 degrees and remain there for as long as three to five days.

Dry Cough

Coughing at first will be dry, but within a couple of days you will be able to bring up bronchial secretions. Coughing actually helps recovery.

Since acute bronchitis frequently is caused by a cold or an influenza virus, your best bet for avoiding it is to keep up your general health. Avoid exposure and becoming tired and chilled.

Once the symptoms begin, however, you should go to bed and stay there until your fever has subsided.

It's probably best to stick to a bland diet, avoiding fried foods, pastry, raw fruits or vegetables, strong cheese, rich desserts, spices, coffee and meat broths.

Milk, of course, is the basis of any bland diet.

Your doctor probably may advise a codeine mixture to control your cough. If coughing is irritating and continuous, he probably will suggest a steam vaporizer be used in the sickroom constantly to keep the air humid.

Mustard Plaster
A sore chest usually can be relieved by a flaxseed poultice or an old-fashioned mustard plaster.

Penicillin or sulfonamides may be called for if your fever remains high for any length of time, but should only be taken under the direction of the doctor.

Once the attack is over, take it easy for several days. Don't rush back to work or leap into your normal daily routine. Failure to follow this advice might land you right back in bed.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. W.: Recently, I have noticed blood in my bowel movement. Could this be due to ulcers in the stomach?

Answer: Blood in the bowel movement comes from many causes.

It may be due to ulcer in the stomach or intestine, infection in the bowel, general blood diseases, such as hemophilia and purpura, or to a polyp of the rectum, hemorrhoids, or tumor.

You should consult your physician concerning the cause and proper treatment.

New Canton College Project Underway

CANTON (AP)—September, 1957, is the target date for the actual opening of a new four year liberal arts college to be built here on a 53-acre tract by a Bible college now located in Cleveland.

The Cleveland Bible College acquired the land from the county yesterday on an auction bid of $101,000, topping a $100,000 bid from a local real estate man. The college's first bid was for $50,000.

Today was dedication day for the land, which is part of the area surrounding the Stark County Home.

Brother Too Weak For Burglary Job

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Joe and William Elbers, brothers, were on trial on charges of stealing a safe.

Joe, 34, insisted he pulled the job all by himself and demonstrated by lifting the 300-pound safe to the witness stand in Criminal Court.

"That was about the same height from the ground as the trunk of the car," Joe said.

The jury acquitted William, 42. Joe was convicted of burglary and is awaiting sentence.

792 Tax Measures OK'd By Ohioans At Polls During 1955

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters last year approved 201 school bond issue and 591 special operating levies, the Ohio State University Bureau of Educational Research reported today after a survey.

The approved bond issues called for the expenditure of $123,216,000 for school construction—$68,685,000 in cities, $10,039,000 in exempted village school districts and $44,492,000 in local school districts.

The city total is the highest in the 20 years the OSU bureau has kept such records. The exempted village total is only slightly below the 1954 all-time record. The local district total also is the second highest on record.

In the operating levy category, city voters approved 70 of 73 submitted, exempted village voters rejected only one of 41 and local district voters approved 481 of 491.

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

WHICH SIDE?

CHRISTIANITY, or COMMUNISM... Which side are YOU on?

There is a distinct line, "THE IRON CURTAIN," separating the two. Communism is an atheistic, materialistic, scientific, political conspiracy, aligned against God.

Communism says, "DOWN WITH THE CROSS!" It declares Man is state-owned property. Christianity, the Bible and God are on one side. The hammer, sickle and Communism on the other.

If you are a Communist, you are Godless. If you love God, you are not a communist. Freedom and a sense of human worth are the Bible's gift to mankind. The hammer blows will falter! The sickle's edge will grow dull! The Bible and the church will endure. WHICH SIDE ARE YOU ON?

Garden Club Holds Meeting At Hidy Home

The regular meeting of the Washington Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Ed Hidy.

Mrs. Paul Brunner, president, called the meeting to order and read the article "To Be a Woman."

Roll call was responded to by eighteen members naming a flower they liked most to grow, and the usual reports were heard and accepted.

Mrs. Brunner announced that an invitation had been received from the Busy Bee Garden Club to attend an open meeting, February 16 at 2 P. M. at the Jeffersonville Methodist Church, and also the date for the National Flower Show in Philadelphia, on March 14.

Mrs. Brunner also announced the progress being made by the committee appointed by the Garden Club Council through the meeting with the Fayette County Fair Board held recently.

The program consisted of a Valentine exchange and a white elephant sale.

Mrs. Brunner presented each member with a rose catalog from the Armstrong Nurseries, and Mrs. Richard Curl gave the history of the Morris Sharp Fountain, which the garden club has been interested in for the past few years.

Home made containers of a wide variety were on display, and Mrs. Ed Hidy gave a paper on "Home-made containers."

She suggested tin cans, cheese boxes, metallic frozen food cartons, milk containers, salt and cereal boxes, bottles, jars and jugs, which can be used in the making of artistic flower vases, with very little cost for inexpensive brushes, paint, sandpaper, wood filler and paraffin.

She emphasized the importance of cleaning the container thoroughly, and the paint both inside and out insures the proper sealing and decorations may also be put on with cement.

Mrs. John Callender and Mrs. Daisy Moffett were welcomed as new members and in the closing contest Mrs. Thomas Willis was awarded the prize.

During the social hour dainty refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Thomas Willis.

Guests included were Mrs. Frank Terrell, Mrs. Arthur Matson, Mrs. Herbert Dawes and Mrs. William Rhems.

Circle Meeting Is Held At Sagar Home

Circle 5 of the First Presbyterian Church Women's Association, held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. John Sagar, Sr., with fourteen members present.

Mrs. Sagar, leader, opened the meeting with a call to worship and welcomed two new members to the circle, Mrs. Lester Walker, and Mrs. James Hixon.

The Bible Study, the first chapter of the Book of Ephesians, was studied under the leadership of Mrs. Rollo Hodge. Missionary names for the day were read by Mrs. Sagar and was followed by prayer for these workers in South America and the West Indies.

The program was a discussion on "Christian Living—Family Style," led by Mrs. M. J. Whitfield, with all members participating.

Following the program the business session was presided over by Mrs. Sagar, who reminded the members to bring used clothing to the Church House to be sent to Korea by February 21. There will be a day of knitting, sewing, and bandage rolling for mission hospitals on the afternoon of Thursday, February 23 at 1 o'clock in the Church House which is open to all women of the church.

A discussion was held on the carpeting of the sanctuary in the church, with the members being in favor of having this project completed during the month of August.

The benediction, taken from Ephesians was read by the group and later a delicious salad course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Duane Baker, Mrs. Kenneth Arnold, Miss Ethel Stewardson, Mrs. James Garringer and Mrs. Leonard Dellinger.

Masonic Order Sets Inspection

Ceremony Follows
Dinner Next Monday

Members of Fayette Council No. 100, Royal & Select Masons, today were preparing for the annual lodge inspection which is to be held in the Masonic Temple here at 7:30 P. M. next Monday.

The inspection meeting is to be held after a dinner that is to be served in the dining room at 6:30 P. M. There is no charge for the dinner.

All members of the order who have not yet received the super-excellent degree have been notified to present themselves at this meeting for the initiation because exemplification of this degree is to be one of the features of the meeting and the inspection.

The public relations chairman of the Council said about a dozen candidates were expected to be inducted into the super-excellent degree as a part of the inspection ceremonies.

Initiation under the critical eye of the inspecting officer has been considered one of the high lights of Masonic ceremony, a distinct honor for the initiates.

THE INSPECTION here Monday night is to be conducted by Illustrious Companion Thomas C. Swope of Portsmouth.

Master of Fayette Council is Karl L. Chapman of Greenfield.

It was explained that the Council here covers Fayette County and then laps over in to parts of adjoining counties to take in communities such as those around Greenfield, Mt. Sterling and New Holland.

There are approximately 150 Royal and Select Masons in Fayette Council and a spokesman said functions such as the coming inspection usually had a 50 percent attendance in the winter. He commented, however, that the weather and condition of the roads would have a definite bearing on the size of the turnout.

Decrease Shown In Sales Taxes

Four counties in this immediate area of seven counties showed decreases in sales tax receipts for the January 21, compared with the same week a year ago.

Fayette, Highland, Ross and Madison were the counties reflecting decreases, while Clinton, Greene and Pickaway showed some increase in sales.

Fayette's total in the recent week reached $5,055.26 and a year ago in the same period the total was $6,553.75.

In the state generally there was a drop of 2.94 percent from the total for the same week in 1955.

Fabb a Candidate

He contends the tax is unfair and unjust because it is levied at different rates and some not at all (out of state) depending on where the grain is stored.

WHEN FABB went into the treasurer's office, he took with him both solid business experience and a comprehensive knowledge of farming and the farmer's problems as a land owner and farmer himself.

He is a graduate of Washington C. H. High School and studied agriculture at the University of Illinois, business administration at Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., and law at Ohio State University.

When he finished college, he went into salesmanship with the Federal Glass Co. of Columbus and later became the sales manager of the Hanson Scale Co. of Chicago.

Following the death of his father, he resigned from the Hanson Co. and he and Mrs. Fabb and their two children came home to live on the farm with his mother.

He is a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Masonic and Elks lodges here.

The treasurer's term of office runs for four years; the next term starts in September of 1957.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Cherry Hills' second and third graders enjoyed a visit to Japan last Friday via a film which had been taken by the Orville Dough-ty when they were stationed there.

Interesting souvenirs were shown preceding the movie by Linda Doughty, a student in Mrs. Lust's third grade. Chopsticks, sandalwood fans, a hat like the natives wear in the rice fields, a large umbrella about the size of our beach umbrella, and a huge lantern were displayed. Particularly interesting were two Japanese dolls in native costume.

Mrs. Doughty projected the film and gave an interesting commentary as the picture appeared on the screen.

When Miss Durant's second graders, who were the guests of the third graders, returned to their room, they were given an opportunity to discuss what they had seen, learned, and enjoyed.

Some interesting comments were made by the following:
Richard W. a d e thought the Japanese people had a funny way of taking a bath. In one picture they saw how they throw a bucket of water on their heads without bothering to remove their clothing.

Linda Parish thought it was strange to see the women working in the rice fields instead of the men. She was afraid if the men in our country saw how the women had to do the work in the fields in Japan, the men might want to try out the same thing in this country.

Some of the children were amused at the picture of a monkey chasing little David Doughty, and taking his bag of peanuts out of his pocket.

Others enjoyed seeing Monkey Mountain and the park of stone statues. Even the trees were made of stone.

Motor Vehicles Best Killer: 38,300 Victims During '55

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents killed 38,300 Americans in 1955 as the motor vehicle held its place as the No. 1 killer in accidents. It took a life every 14 minutes.

The National Safety Council today reported that last year:

Accidents of all types brought death to 92,000 persons, injured 9,200,000 and resulted in $10,300,000,000 in financial setbacks such as equipment and property damage, lost wages and medical expenses.

Traffic accidents alone cost 38,300 lives, approximately 1,350,000 nonfatal injuries and $4,700,000,000 in terms of cash.

The motor vehicle death toll tied with the 1953 toll for the third highest on record. It was 1,689 during the all-time high of 39,969 reached in 1941 and approached closer to the 39,643 registered in 1937.

The 1955 traffic toll showed an 8 per cent gain over the 35,586 total of 1954.

Traffic deaths rode a steady upward trend last year, and zoomed to record holiday heights during the Christmas period. The December toll of 3,960 was the largest for any month since December 1941.

THE GROWTH of population and the increase in travel also figure in comparisons. The 1955 death rate per 100 million vehicle miles was estimated at 6.4. That was 2 per cent higher than in 1954 which had the lowest rate on record.

The number of deaths from all kinds of accidents—92,000—showed an increase of 3 per cent over the 89,432 recorded in 1954.

Motor vehicle fatalities were responsible for the increase. Home accident deaths numbered 27,000, a slight decrease. Accidental deaths at work added up to 14,200, a slight increase. Deaths in public but not involving motor vehicles made a small gain.

The all-accident death toll was substantially under the levels attained in some earlier years. It has topped 100,000 four times since 1934.

States showing reductions in traffic death tolls were listed as Idaho, 23 per cent; Arizona, 11; Minnesota, 10; North Dakota, 4; Kansas, Oregon; Nebraska, 4; New Mexico, Utah and Wyoming 3 per cent each; New Jersey 2 per cent and Iowa and Maryland 1 per cent for any month since December 1941.

Lush Diamond Parcel Sent Ordinary Mail

NEW YORK (AP)—An $8,400,000 shipment of diamonds arriving here by routine mail yesterday included a stone described as "the finest diamond in quality and purity ever found in Africa."

Harry Winston, a dealer who received the gems as though he would an order of groceries, said the description came from Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, a British authority on diamonds.

The prized 426-carat stone, valued at $1 1/2 million, has no name. "If we can find a buyer for the stone," said Winston, "it will be named after his family. We are looking for a royal family."

Winston disdains heavy guards and ultra-secrecy in having his gems sent to him, saying the regular mail is "the safest way."

"I've never had a loss in my dealings with the postoffice," he commented.

The gems arriving yesterday, sent by air mail from London,

Masonic Order Sets Inspection

Ceremony Follows
Dinner Next Monday

Members of Fayette Council No. 100, Royal & Select Masons, today were preparing for the annual lodge inspection which is to be held in the Masonic Temple here at 7:30 P. M. next Monday.

The inspection meeting is to be held after a dinner that is to be served in the dining room at 6:30 P. M. There is no charge for the dinner.

All members of the order who have not yet received the super-excellent degree have been notified to present themselves at this meeting for the initiation because exemplification of this degree is to be one of the features of the meeting and the inspection.

The public relations chairman of the Council said about a dozen candidates were expected to be inducted into the super-excellent degree as a part of the inspection ceremonies.

Initiation under the critical eye of the inspecting officer has long been considered one of the highlights of Masonic ceremony, a distinct honor for the initiates.

THE INSPECTION here Monday night is to be conducted by illustrious Companion Thomas C. Swope of Portsmouth.

Master of Fayette Council is Karl L. Chapman of Greenfield.

It was explained that the Council here covers Fayette County and then laps over in to parts of adjoining counties to take in communities such as those around Greenfield, Mt. Sterling and New Holland.

There are approximately 150 Royal and Select Masons in Fayette Council and a spokesman said functions such as the coming inspection usually had a 50 percent attendance in the winter. He commented, however, that the weather and condition of the roads would have a definite bearing on the size of the turnout.

Decrease Shown In Sales Taxes

Four counties in this immediate area of seven counties showed decreases in sales tax receipts for the January 21, compared with the same week a year ago.

Fayette, Highland, Ross and Madison were the counties reflecting decreases, while Clinton, Greene and Pickaway showed some increase in sales.

Fayette's total in the recent week reached $5,055.26 and a year ago in the same period the total was $6,553.75.

In the state generally there was a drop of 2.94 percent from the total for the same week in 1955.

Fabb a Candidate

He contends the tax is unfair and unjust because it is levied at different rates and some not at all (out of state) depending on where the grain is stored.

WHEN FABB went into the treasurer's office, he took with him both solid business experience and a comprehensive knowledge of farming and the farmer's problems as a land owner and farmer himself.

He is a graduate of Washington C. H. High School and studied agriculture at the University of Illinois, business administration at Cornell University at Ithaca, N. Y., and law at Ohio State University.

When he finished college, he went into salesmanship with the Federal Glass Co. of Columbus and later became the sales manager of the Hanson Scale Co. of Chicago.

Following the death of his father, he resigned from the Hanson Co. and he and Mrs. Fabb and their two children came home to live on the farm with his mother.

He is a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Masonic and Elks lodges here.

The treasurer's term of office runs for four years; the next term starts in September of 1957.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

Cherry Hills' second and third graders enjoyed a visit to Japan last Friday via a film which had been taken by the Orville Dougherty when they were stationed there.

Interesting souvenirs were shown preceding the movie by Linden Doughty, a student in Mrs. Lust's third grade. Chopsticks, sandalwood fans, a hat like the natives wear in the rice fields, a large umbrella about the size of our beach umbrella, and a huge lantern were displayed. Particularly interesting were two Japanese dolls in native costume.

Mrs. Doughty projected the film and gave an interesting commentary as the picture appeared on the screen.

When Miss Durant's second graders, who were the guests of the third graders, returned to their room, they were given an opportunity to discuss what they had seen, learned, and enjoyed.

Some interesting comments were made by the following:

Richard Wade thought the Japanese people had a funny way to taking a bath. In one picture they saw how they throw a bucket of water on their heads without bothering to remove their clothing.

Linda Parish thought it was strange to see the women working in the rice fields instead of the men. She was afraid if the men in our country saw how the women had to do the work in the fields in Japan, the men might want to try out the same thing in this country.

Motor Vehicles Best Killer: 38,300 Victims During '55

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents killed 38,300 Americans in 1955 as the motor vehicle held its place as the No. 1 killer in accidents. It took a life every 14 minutes.

The National Safety Council today reported that last year:

Accidents of all types brought death to 92,000 persons, injured 9,200,000 and resulted in $10,300,000,000 in financial setbacks such as equipment and property damage, lost wages and medical expenses.

Traffic accidents alone cost 38,300 lives, approximately 1,350,000 nonfatal injuries and $4,700,000,000 in terms of cash.

The motor vehicle death toll tied with the 1953 toll for the third highest on record. It was 1,669 under the all-time high of 39,969 reached in 1941 and approached closer to the 39,643 registered in 1937.

The 1955 traffic toll showed an 8 percent gain over the 35,586 total of 1954.

Traffic deaths rode a steady upward trend last year, and zoomed to record holiday heights during the Christmas period. The December toll of 3,960 was the largest out the same thing in this country.

Lush Diamond Parcel Sent Ordinary Mail

NEW YORK (AP)—An $8,400,000 shipment of diamonds arriving here by routine mail yesterday included a stone described as "the finest diamond in quality and purity ever found in Africa."

Harry Winston, a dealer who received the gems as though he would an order of groceries, said the description came from Sir Ernest Oppenheimer, a British authority on diamonds.

The prized 426-carat stone, valued at $1 1/2 million, has no name. "If we can find a buyer for the stone," said Winston, "it will be named after his family. We are looking for a royal family."

Winston disdains heavy guards and ultra-secrecy in having his gems sent to him, saying the regular mail is "the safest way."

"I've never had a loss in my dealings with the postoffice," he commented.

The gems arriving yesterday, sent by air mail from London,

Long Cold War Seen Ahead For U. S., Russia

Political, Economic Weapons To Be Used In Continuing Conflict

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of three articles dealing with developments in the current East-West cold war.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

There is a long political-economic war ahead for the United States and the Soviet Union.

As the years go by, developments in superweapons may minimize the question of superiority of one side or the other in the military field.

Already, a standoff in nuclear weapons is forcing the East-West quarrel into the field of economic and political competition. And with each year of such competition, the military picture will be changing.

The free world still has the ability and the power to retaliate massively to aggression, and even political aggression such as that which seized Czechoslovakia would carry with it today the threat of atomic world war. Thus, in the opinion of some highly placed observers, the Russians are prevented from seizing many an otherwise alluring opportunity.

The Soviet Communist party's 20th congress, opening two weeks hence, undoubtedly will set off a flood of propaganda for unconditional prohibition of nuclear weapons by international agreement. Even today, Western leaders are asking: Aside from the obvious question of foolproof safeguards in such an agreement, is it going to be possible in the future to distinguish between atomic and non-atomic war?

If tactical atomic weapons were used to counter a Red aggression, would that lead eventually to use of the big bombs? If fear of that existed, the advantage would swing back to conventional forces.

On the continent of Europe, the U.S.S.R. has and will have for a long time to come a great superiority in ground forces. There are only about 15 active divisions available to the NATO command to protect a European front of hundreds of miles. German rearmament progresses slowly. NATO's members are reluctant to build up their effective forces. Without the threat of what Secretary of State Dulles calls "massive retaliation," little would stand in the way of Red military aggression.

Some American leaders feel a complete ban on nuclear weapons therefore would be handing the Soviet Union a long-range political advantage generated by the mass of Soviet land power. Thus, the current discussion of a "new look" in atomic weapons becomes a matter of grave importance.

A highly placed informant in Washington indicates this was the line of thinking behind the recent "brink of war" statement attributed to Secretary Dulles. It points up the dangers of miscalculating American intentions.

The propaganda disadvantages of announcing such an American policy of strong deterrents are obvious, and Soviet propagandists can be expected to make the most of them.

But the deterrent still leaves the free world with time to build its counteroffensive. While the Soviet Union is short of its economic goals at home, while it is struggling with its own long-range strategic planning to protect the U.S.S.R. against the possibility of global war, the Kremlin is unlikely to move aggressively beyond its noisy but still ineffective economic grandstand plays.

War on that field — economic

FACING a 60-count indictment on charges of impairing the morals of minor girls, Ivan Jerome, 62, of Massapequa, L. I., is declared a fugitive when he fails to appear for trial in Nassau county court, Mineola, N. J. The judge ordered his $100,000 cash bond forfeited and issued a bench warrant for his arrest. competition—is bringing the game to American home grounds. It offers anxious world hope of safety from a major shooting war for years to come, years in which to wage the economic and political war for peace.

Negro Coed Enters Alabama University

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—A 26-year-old Birmingham secretary has become the first Negro student in the 125-year history of the University of Alabama, but she was denied a dormitory room and meals with white students.

Four fiery crosses were burned on the university campus Tuesday night and yesterday in protest against her enrollment.

Arthurine J. Lucy, admitted on federal court order, was given a registration card. Reporters were given a written announcement that no dormitory room or board would be provided for her.

NIT Sponsors Unhappy At Cincy Showing

Classy Ohio Outfit Trips St. John's But Due For NCAA Tourney

(By The Associated Press) A classy Cincinnati club, with a powerhouse guy named Phil Wheeler, left the selection committee of the National Invitation Tournament crying in its beer today over what might have been.

The Bearcats looked great in beating St. John's of Brooklyn 93-78 at Madison Square Garden Thursday night. Wheeler scored 37 points. But for all the raves, Cincy (14-3) is beyond reach of the NIT because of NCAA probation.

The NIT has decided to skip any teams not acceptable for the NCAA championship tourney.

St. Louis also left the NIT a bit gloomy Thursday night, coming from 11 points back to edge Wichita 90-88 on two free throws in the last 5 seconds by Jim McLaughlin, who scored 36. That gave the Billikens a 5-0 record in the Missouri Valley Conference and a trump card in the title chase that leads to the NCAA Tournament.

The NIT would much rather have the Bills wind up second in the Missouri Valley—and pay a return visit to its shindig.

St. Louis, which also defeated Cincy, along with Indiana, is rated No. 11 in the nation and was one of three ranked teams in action last night. Louisville (No. 3) hit 47 per cent from the field and 23 of 24 foul tosses to wallop Toledo 93-64. Morehead (Ky.), however, upset 18th-ranked Marshall 108-103 in overtime. Morehead is No. 1, Marshall No. 2 in national offense rankings.

Wheeler, a 6-4 hometown product, wasn't the whole show for Cincinnati. He got big help from Frank Nimmo, who scored 26 from outside, and 6-9 soph Connie Dierking, who did well off the boards when regular Dave Plunkett, 6-8, was shackled by fouls and spent most of the game on the bench.

St. Louis got into an early hole at Wichita and trailed 48-37 at the half before catching fire.

Big Charley Tyra, as usual, was high for Louisville, which tumbled Dayton from the unbeaten Saturday. He hit 10 of 14 from the field and finished with 26 points.

Elsewhere, soph more Marty Boudette sank a long set shot at the buzzer to give Miami (Fla.) an upset 77-75 decision over Xavier (Ohio) after tying the score 49 seconds earlier on a duplicate shot.

Buddy Kerr Named Dayton Grid Pilot

DAYTON — Buddy Kerr of the University of Washington's coaching staff expects to arrive here in about 10 days to take over as head football coach at the University of Dayton.

The 40-year-old former All-American end at Notre Dame was selected by Dayton last night from among some dozen candidates. Kerr will fill the vacancy created when Hugh DeVore resigned last month to become head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Kerr, married and the father of three, has been end coach at Washington the last two years.

Bloomington Boys Nose Out Lion Cubs

Bloomington Junior High School's Bulldog pups nosed out the Lions Cubs from Washington C. H. High School, 25 to 26, in the only inter-school basketball game hereabouts Thursday.

When the two squads got together earlier in the season, the Cubs took the decision. But, for the game, Coach Fred Domenico of the Cubs and Everett Rudolph of the Bulldogs pups agreed that the Bloomington freshmen should play while the Cubs would be made up of only seventh and eighth graders.

After the game, Coach Domenico said the boys all had a good time, that it was a good game and that he felt all the young basketballers learned some more about team play, sportsmanship and basketball that will help them when they move up to the Reserve squad and then on to the Varsity.

This was the third loss of the season for the Cubs, who have won 8 of their 11 games. The other two defeats were at the hands of the Greenfield and Chillicothe Juniors.

The Bloomington lineup, and scoring, was: Hidy, Porter 2, Chatin 8, Mongold, Welsh 2, McCoy 2, Fradd 2, Evans 1 and Snyder 1.

The Washington C. H. lineup and scoring was: Carter 4, Campbell 8, Huff 5, Lynch 1 and Scott 7.

Indiana, OSU To Appear On TV Tomorrow

COLUMBUS — Indiana's nationally televised game at Ohio State tomorrow (CBS, 3 p. m. EST) heads a program of three Big Ten basketball engagements involving for the most part the conference's also-rans.

League-leading Illinois (5-0) is idle and second-place Iowa (4-1) entertains Wichita in out-of-state competition. A third non-league game sends Washington University to Michigan.

In other Big Ten action, Minnesota (2-4) is at Purdue (5-3) and Wisconsin (4-1) at Northwestern (0-6).

Indiana will be operating without its top scorer, Charlie Brown, who was ruled scholastically ineligible soon after another Hoosier sophomore, Paxton Lumpkin, was floored the same way. Both were stars on Chicago's DuSable prep team that went to the finals of the state tourney.

The nation's TV fans will get a chance to see Ohio State's sensational scorer, Robin Freeman. He has made 75 out of 166 field goal attempts and 49 out of 59 free throws in six conference games for 199 points—a 33.2 average.

Jackson, Baker To Meet Tonight

NEW YORK — If Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson can't arouse Bob Baker to "shoot the works" effort in Madison Square Garden tonight, the cause is hopeless.

Bulky Bob, the No. 2 heavyweight contender in the latest Ring (No. 1 in NBA), admits he looked bad while beating Nino Valdes Dec. 7 at Cleveland for his 13th straight. "I was winning and didn't extend myself," he explained.

A decisive victory by the Hurricane, a 2-1 underdog, would send him to the top of the heap. He's now ranked third.

NBC will broadcast and telecast the 10-round at 10 p. m.

Women Kealers Slated For Meet

DAYTON — The Ohio State Women's Bowling Championships will start here this weekend. Cleveland's Justin Stars is the defending champion. Sessions will be held weekends, ending May 5-6.

The Ohio American Legion Tournament also starts here tomorrow and will run four weeks.

Women's tournament officials said 715 five-women teams have signed up. 1,631 doubles teams and

DeMarco Felled By Broken Jaw

LOS ANGELES — Don Jordan caught Brooklyn's Paddy DeMarco with a clean one-two last night to score a surprise fifth round technical knockout over the former world lightweight champion in a scheduled 10 rounder. A state athletic commission doctor said DeMarco's jaw was broken.

In the fifth DeMarco went down for a one-count from a stiff left-right and immediately went down again from a similar combination. DeMarco stood up and raised his arms, apparently in a signal of defeat. But Jordan swarmed over him and referee Tommy Hart called a halt at 1:45.

Hawks Trip Pistons, Tightening Race

NEW YORK — The St. Louis Hawks' 98-90 victory over the Fort Wayne Pistons, the western leaders, lifted them out of the cellar into third place last night.

In other NBA games, the Boston Celtics downed the Minneapolis Lakers 102-101, the Syracuse Nationals beat the Rochester Royals 97-89 and the Philadelphia Warriors edged the New York Knickerbockers 88-87.

The results tightened the race for the runnerup spot in the western division. Minneapolis is second, but Rochester in last place is only nine percentage points behind the Lakers.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — The Michigan AAU relays open the Midwest indoor track season to night with a field of 450 competitors including a hot team from the Lockbourne Air Force Base, Ohio.

Deacon Jones, NCAA cross country champion, heads a strong team from the University of Iowa. Entries will also be on hand from Ohio State, Purdue, Notre Dame, Loyola of Chicago, Wheaton, Central Michigan, Michigan Normal, Michigan and Michigan State.

Papa Bear Picks Driscoll Coach

CHICAGO — Owner George Halas of the Chicago Bears has named Paddy Driscoll, long-time assistant, as head coach of the Bears to succeed himself.

2 Of Ohio's Top Ten Face Tough Tests

COLUMBUS — Hamilton and Akron South, two of the state's "top 10" high school basketball teams, take on formidable opposition this weekend.

Hamilton (14-2) goes against Portsmouth (7-5), which has a home-floor advantage that could result in an upset. Hamilton is No. 3 in state ratings.

Class A
Akron South, (No. 6) meets Canton McKinley, defeated earlier by South. Again, the home floor advantage for Canton (11-2) could make a difference.

Most of the other teams in the top 10 are expected to triumph.

Class A
Middleton (1) at Lima (5-7) Friday; Canton South (2) vs. New Philadelphia Friday; Youngstown Chaney Saturday; Canton Timken (4) vs. Uhrichsville Friday; Orange Saturday; Columbus East (5) vs. Columbus Linden Friday; Canton Lehman Saturday; Gallipolis (7) vs. Middleport Friday; East Liverpool (8) vs. Salem Friday; Newark (9) vs. Marietta Friday; Lorain (10) vs. Elyria Friday.

Class B

New York Rookie Is Seen Answer To Phillie Puzzle

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK — Ed Bouchée, a 22-year-old rookie who never played higher than Class A ball, may be the answer to the Philadelphia Phillies' long search for a slugging first baseman.

The six-foot, 200-pounder, who batted .313 at Schenectady, N.Y., is the best regarded of 18 new comers at the Phillies' training camp next spring. A left-handed batter, he slammed 22 home runs and drove in 107 runs.

Eight of the remaining newcomers are pitchers. Jim Owens won 15 games at Syracuse last season and led the International League with 161 strikeouts.

Seth Morehead, a young south paw who received a reported $50,000 for signing with the Phillies, won 8 and lost 13 at Syracuse last year.

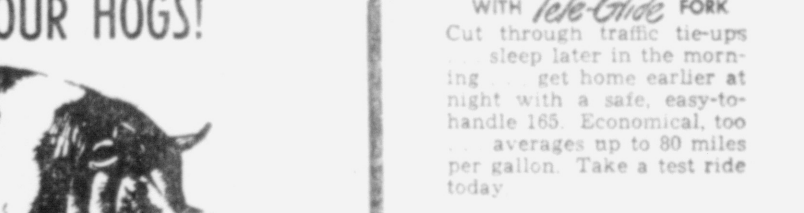

Lynn Lovenguth is back after a 15-8 record and 2.34 earned run average at Syracuse. Another Syracuse graduate is Jack Spring, a 7-8 record southpaw.

Southpaw Floyd Ross was purchased from Chattanooga, where he had a 10-13 record and Marino Pieretti, 34-year-old right-hander, was obtained from Sacramento, where he was 19-15.

Tom Qualters, 8-8 at Reidsville last season, is back. So is Angelo Lipetri, 11-6 at Schenectady, and Gene Snyder, who was 10-11 at Reidsville.

Remember Ted Kazanski, the $80,000 bonus boy who couldn't hit the size of his hat with the Phils a couple of years ago? The young second baseman is back after a surprising .307 season at Syracuse. Also back for another trial are shortstop Bob Micelotta, .244 at Syracuse; and third baseman Ben Tompkins, .251 at Syracuse. Johnny Moskus, who batted .288 at Reidsville, will be in the battle for the regular first base job.

NIT Sponsors Unhappy At Cincy Showing

Classy Ohio Outfit
Trips St. John's But
Due For NCAA Tourney

(By The Associated Press)
A classy Cincinnati club, with a powerhouse guy named Phil Wheeler, left the selection committee of the National Invitation Tournament crying in its beer today over what might have been.

The Bearcats looked great in beating St. John's of Brooklyn 93-78 at Madison Square Garden Thursday night. Wheeler scored 37 points. But for all the raves, Cincy (14-3) is beyond reach of the NIT because of NCAA probation.

The NIT has decided to skip any teams not acceptable for the NCAA championship tourney.

St. Louis also left the NIT a bit gloomy Thursday night, coming from 11 points back to edge Wichita 90-88 on two free throws in the last 5 seconds by Jim McLaughlin, who scored 36. That gave the Billikens a 5-0 record in the Missouri Valley Conference and a trump card in the title chase that leads to the NCAA Tournament.

The NIT would much rather have the Bills wind up second in the Missouri Valley—and pay a return visit to its shindig.

St. Louis, which also defeated Cincy, along with Indiana, is rated No. 11 in the nation and was one of three ranked teams in action last night. Louisville (No. 5) hit 47 per cent from the field and 23 of 24 foul tosses to wallop Toledo 93-64. Morehead (Ky.), however, upset 18th-ranked Marshall 108-103 in overtime. Morehead is No. 1, Marshall No. 2 in national offense rankings.

Wheeler, a 6-4 hometown product, wasn't the whole show for Cincinnati. He got big help from Frank Nimmo, who scored 20 from outside, and 6-9 soph Connie Bierking, who did well off the boards when regular Dave Plunkett, 6-8, was shackled by fouls and spent most of the game on the bench.

St. Louis got into an early hole at Wichita and trailed 48-37 at the half before catching fire.

Big Charley Tyra, as usual, was high for Louisville, which tumbled Dayton from the unbeaten Saturday. He hit 10 of 14 from the field and finished with 26 points.

Elsewhere, soph more Marty Burdette sank a long set shot at the buzzer to give Miami (Fla.) an upset 77-75 decision over Xavier (Ohio) after tying the score 40 seconds earlier on a duplicate shot.

Buddy Kerr Named Dayton Grid Pilot

DAYTON (AP)—Buddy Kerr of the University of Washington's coaching staff expects to arrive here in about 10 days to take over as head football coach at the University of Dayton.

The 40-year-old former All-America end at Notre Dame was selected by Dayton last night from among some dozen candidates. Kerr will fill the vacancy created when Hugh DeVore resigned last month to become head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Kerr, married and the father of three, has been end coach at Washington the last two years.

Bloomington Boys Nose Out Lion Cubs

Bloomington Junior High School's Bulldog pups nosed out the Lions Cubs from Washington C. H. High School, 25 to 26, in the only inter-school basketball game hereabouts Thursday.

When the two squads got together earlier in the season, the Cubs took the decision. But, for the game, Coach Fred Domenico of the Cubs and Everett Rudolph of the Bulldogs Pups agreed that the Bloomington freshmen should play while the Cubs would be made up of only seventh and eighth graders.

After the game, Coach Domenico said the boys all had a good time, that it was a good game and that he felt all the young basketballers learned some more about team play, sportsmanship and basketball that will help them when they move up to the Reserve squad and then on to the Varsity.

This was the third loss of the season for the Cubs, who have won 8 of their 11 games. The other two defeats were at the hands of the Greenfield and Chillicothe Juniors.

The Bloomington lineup, and scoring, was: Hidy, Porter 2, Chatlin 8, Mongold, Welsh 2, McCoy 2, Fradd 2, Evans 1 and Snyder 9. The Washington C. H. lineup and scoring was: Carter 4, Campbell 8, Huff 5, Lynch 1 and Scott 7.

Indiana, OSU To Appear On TV Tomorrow

COLUMBUS (AP)—Indiana's nationally televised game at Ohio State tomorrow (CBS, 3 p. m. EST) heads a program of three Big Ten basketball engagements involving for the most part the conference's also-rans.

League-leading Illinois (5-0) is idle and second-place Iowa (4-1) entertains Wichita in outside competition. A third non-league game sends Washington University to Michigan.

In other Big Ten action, Minnesota (4) at Purdue (5-3) and Wisconsin (4-1) at Northwestern (0-6).

Indiana will be operating without its top scorer, Charlie Brown, who was ruled scholastically ineligible soon after another Hoosier sophomore, Paxton Lumpkin, was floor-ed the same way. Both were stars on Chicago's DuSable prep team that went to the finals of the state tourney.

The nation's TV fans will get a chance to see Ohio State's sensational scorer, Robin Freeman. He has made 75 out of 166 field attempts and 49 out of 59 free throws in six conference games for 199 points—a 33.2 average.

Jackson, Baker To Meet Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—If Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson can't arouse Bob Baker to a "shoot the works" effort in Madison Square Garden tonight, the cause is hopeless.

Bulky Bob, the No. 2 heavyweight contender in the latest Ring (No. 1 in NBA), admits he looked bad while beating Nino Valdes Dec. 7 at Cleveland for his 13th straight. "I was winning and didn't extend myself,"

The other shortstop candidates include Jerry Coleman, Billy Hunter, Billy Martin, Gil McDougald and of course, Rizzuto.

The list of promising youngsters includes catchers Lou Berberet and Johnny Blanchard; infielders Bud-dy Carter, Bobby Richardson and Mary Throneberry; outfielders Lou Skizas, Whitey Herzog, Bob Martyn and Dick Tittlebach; and pitchers Jim Coates, Ralph Terry, Jim De Palo, Jim O'Reilly and Jim Pignatello.

Berberet, up for his third trial, hit 15 homers and batted .265 at Toronto. Blanchard batted .281 at Binghamton.

The four new outfielders represent a total of 70 home runs and 379 runs batted in. Skizas, 24, was the nominal batting champ of the American Association. His .348 was tops in the league but he missed the title because of injuries sustained the last month of the season at Denver.

Tittlebach, also at Denver, has 16 homers and 95 runs batted in while hitting .309. Herzog was 289 with the Bears. Martyn batted .318 at Birmingham.

Throneberry, a brother of the Boston Red Sox outfielder, gets a chance for the regular first base job. At Denver, his batting average was only .275 but he whalloped a league high of 36 home runs and drove in 117 runs. Carter, 24, was the outstanding third baseman in the Eastern League with a .279 average at Binghamton. Richardson, who received a trial at second with the Yankees last season, was .296 at Denver.

Coates, a 6-4, 23-year-old right-hander, is probably the best regarded among the five pitching newcomers. He had a 13-8 record at Binghamton, turned in a noteworthy 2.77 earned run average and led the Eastern League with 186 strikeouts in 185 innings.

523 FIRE CALLS
CHILLICOTHE—During last year the Chillicothe Fire Department answered 523 alarms, including 97 runs outside of the city. Total fire loss was placed at $63,520.86. There were 21 false alarms.

Campaign Plan For Red Cross Set Up by Board

New and Different Elements Are To Be Used This Year

A fund-raising campaign for the Red Cross that will have some new and different elements was outlined by the directors Thursday afternoon.

This was the first meeting of the new board since the chapter here was reorganized about two weeks ago. It was held in the Chamber of Commerce office with Joe Peters, the chairman, presiding.

The campaign is to be held in March.

Don Gibson, who was designated at the reorganization meeting for the campaign director, tossed out a few suggestions that were used by the board as the framework for the overall campaign plan.

One of the new approaches to the fund-raising this year will be the emphasis placed on individuality; another will be spotlighting the blood program.

DON SWAIN, the chapter's publicity chairman, explained that in striving for greater individuality, the campaign would stress more individual memberships in raising the money to carry on the Red Cross humanitarian program here.

He went on to point out while the board would strive to get more memberships, the chapter still would have to count on the substantial contributions by organizations, industries, business firms and individuals of means.

In spotlighting the blood program Swain said, an effort would be made to carry on the canvass, the door-to-door solicitation, with as many blood donors and those who had received blood as it is possible to recruit for the campaign.

This approach was taken, it was brought out at the meeting, because of the important part the blood program has in the overall Red Cross program as well as the important part it has in the community's life and health.

CHAIRMAN Peters is to personally direct the campaign among the community's industries during the last two weeks in February and Tom Mark is to head up the solicitation in the business sections of Washington C. H. and the county's villages.

The canvass in the residential sections of Washington C. H. is to follow the pattern of many years, with the solicitation set up by wards and precincts.

An entirely new and different plan is being put in shape now for the campaign in the rural areas. Because it has not yet been completed, and because there are several individuals to be consulted, it was kept under wraps for the time being.

The plans also provide for personal appeals before organizations and groups by members of the board and others who are familiar with the Red Cross program.

Belford Carpenter Plans Convention

Belford F. Carpenter of Washington C. H. will be a member of the registration committee for next week's annual convention of the Ohio Hardware Association.

Carpenter, proprietor of Carpenter's Hardware Store here, is a trustee of the association and has been assisting in completing plans for the convention, to be held in Cleveland Feb. 6 through 8. The association will hold its 1956 hardware show in conjunction with the convention.

Garage Is Scene Of Small Blaze

The Brandenburg Garage on Clinton Avenue was the scene of a small fire at 10:55 P. M. Thursday. It was discovered in time by passersby and handled promptly by the Fire Department, with result that damage was comparatively light and probably would not exceed a few hundred dollars.

A short circuit in the wiring was said to have ignited a sign on the outside of the building. When it started blazing, it was quickly discovered.

The show room was filled with dense smoke and an upper window broken out, but the fire was soon extinguished.

Dairy Group Holds Banquet

The people in this world are a "restless lot," according to Rev. Charles L. Harrison, speaker Thursday evening at the Fayette County Dairy Association annual meeting and banquet at the Country Club.

Rev. Harrison is resident chaplain at Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster.

The meeting included election of new members of the Dairy Board of Directors each of the five new directors will serve a two year term.

New directors and the townships they represent are Joe Saville, Jasper; Marvin DeMent, Jefferson; Robert Klever, Marion; Frank Dill, Union and James W. Kearney, Wayne.

The new directors will join the five incumbents on the board in planning and conducting the 1956 dairy program here.

Rev. Harrison told several humorous stories before stating that the people of this world need four keys to abundant living to combat restlessness and insecure condition.

He submitted four points to act as a chain to hold life together. He said that people needed a satisfactory way of life, a point of view, something worth giving themselves for and an understanding faith that is alive and vital.

THE MUSICAL PORTION of the program was handled by Barbara Kneisley, Jackie Hoppes, Sara Sue Davidson and Joan Little who sang two songs.

Dick Kellogg, manager of the Central Ohio Breeding Association, tion, made a report on the accomplishments of COBA during 1955. He reported that COBA had bred 167,451 cows, which is 30 percent of all the cows in the 57 counties served.

During this time 2,905 new members have joined the breeding cooperative.

One of the biggest accomplishments of the COBA, according to Kellogg, was the total of 50,000 cows inseminated with frozen semen. No other organization in the United States can boast of a higher number in this aspect of artificial breeding.

Dale Smith, Fayette County Inspector stated that 1,958 Fayette County cows have been bred artificially in 1955. This means that 38 percent of the cows in Fayette County are being bred by COBA.

He pointed out that since 1948, when the program started, the number of cows bred annually has taken a steady increase each year. Starting with 422 in 1948 COBA has bred: 1949, 671; 1950, 851; 1951, 1235; 1952, 1544; 1953, 1820; 1954, 1860; 1955, 1958.

Dale presented certificates of recognition to all those owning at least 100 cows served by COBA. They are as follows:

Wayne and Rex Bloomer, 200; Gerald Straley 159, C. C. Craig 155, Donald Rife 143, Marvin DeMent 137, Bobana Farms 131, Ralph Agle and Sons 128, Robert Klever 128, Dean Cory 126, John Leland 124, Ed Noble 121, Frank Dill 103, Von Crites 102 and Tom Craig 100.

HAYS WATSON, production testing supervisor, reported that figures are not yet available on the annual milk testers report.

The preliminary report shows that in 1954 there were 15 herds with 346 cows in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association testing program and four owner-sampler herds.

In 1955 there were 17 DHIA herds with 507 cows and four herds on the owner-sampler testing method.

There were 107 cows culled out for beef in 1955 as an effort to make production per cow higher. Philip Grover, Associate County Agent, introduced the guests attending. Those recognized included Larry Neal, field supervisor for COBA, the 4-H and FFA dairy club members and seven business concerns who donated food for the menu.

Contributing concerns were: Med-O-Pure, Sagar, Cudahy Packing Co., Kroger's, Alber's, Helfrich's and Evan's Super Market. W. W. Montgomery gave the invocation and Marvin DeMent acted as toastmaster for the evening.

The people in this world are a "restless lot," according to Rev. Charles L. Harrison, speaker Thursday evening at the Fayette County Dairy Association annual meeting and banquet at the Country Club.

Rev. Harrison is resident chaplain at Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster.

The meeting included election of new members of the Dairy Board of Directors each of the five new directors will serve a two year term.

New directors and the townships they represent are Joe Saville, Jasper; Marvin DeMent, Jefferson; Robert Klever, Marion; Frank Dill, Union and James W. Kearney, Wayne.

The new directors will join the five incumbents on the board in planning and conducting the 1956 dairy program here.

Rev. Harrison told several humorous stories before stating that the people of this world need four keys to abundant living to combat restless and insecure condition.

He submitted four points to act as a chain to hold life together. He said that people needed a satisfactory way of life, a point of view, something worth giving themselves for and an understanding faith that is alive and vital.

THE MUSICAL PORTION of the program was handled by Barbara Kneisley, Jackie Hoppes, Sara Sue Davidson and Joan Little who sang two songs.

Dick Kellogg, manager of the Central Ohio Breeding Association, made a report on the accomplishments of COBA during 1955. He reported that COBA had bred 167,451 cows, which is 30 percent of all the cows in the 57 counties served.

During this time 2,905 new members have joined the breeding cooperative.

One of the biggest accomplishments of the COBA, according to Kellogg, was the total of 50,000 cows inseminated with frozen semen. No other organization in the United States can boast of a higher number in this aspect of artificial breeding.

Dale Smith, Fayette County Insulator stated that 1,958 Fayette County cows have been bred artificially in 1955. This means that 38 percent of the cows in Fayette County are being bred by COBA. He pointed out that since 1948, when the program started, the number of cows bred annually has taken a steady increase each year. Starting with 422 in 1948 COBA has bred: 1949, 671; 1950, 851; 1951, 1235; 1952, 1544; 1953, 1820; 1954, 1860; 1955, 1958.

Dale presented certificates of recognition to all those owning at least 100 cows served by COBA. They are as follows:

Wayne and Rex Bloomer, 200; Gerald Straley 159, C. C. Craig 155, Donald Rife 143, Marvin DeMent 137, Bobana Farms 131, Ralph Agle and Sons 128, Robert Klever 128, Dean Cory 126, John Leland 124, Ed Noble 121, Frank Dill 103, Von Crites 102 and Tom Craig 100.

HAYS WATSON, production testing supervisor, reported that figures are not yet available on the annual milk testers report.

The preliminary report shows that in 1954 there were 15 herds with 346 cows in the Dairy Herd Improvement Association testing program and four owner - sampler herds.

In 1955 there were 17 DHIA herds with 507 cows and four herds on the owner - sampler testing method.

There were 107 cows culled out for beef in 1955 as an effort to make production per cow higher.

Philip Grover, Associate County Agent, introduced the guests attending. Those recognized included Larry Neal, field supervisor for COBA, the 4-H and FFA dairy club members and seven business concerns who donated food for the menu.

Contributing concerns were: Med-O-Pure, Sagar, Cudahy Packing Co., Kroger's, Alber's, Helfrich's and Evan's Super Market.

W. W. Montgomery gave the invocation and Marvin DeMent acted as toastmaster for the evening.

Homecoming Set at Jeff HS

Ruth Young Chosen
To Reign At Dance

Saturday night, Ruth Young will be crowned Homecoming Queen of Jeffersonville High School before a crowd of alumni and students at the Jeff-Good Hope basketball game.

Queen Ruth, a senior, will be crowned by Miss Beverly Baughn, the girl who won the honor a year ago. The co-captains of the cage team, Ronnie Sams and John Wright, will each present the new queen a bouquet.

Miss Baughn is now a student at Wilmington College.

The ceremony will be held between the reserve and varsity games. That should make the time about 8:15 P. M., Coach Robert Hildreth estimates.

Members of Queen Ruth's court will be Lenna Mae Everhart, senior attendant; Sharon Warnock, junior; Sara Sue Davidson, sophomore; and Patty Stoddard, freshman.

Ruth and her court will reign at the Homecoming dance to be held immediately after the varsity basketball game. Featured at the dance will be the music of the Ohio Ramblers, a Columbus band.

The 50-50 dance is scheduled to begin at 10 P. M., or as soon as the court action ends, and will last until 1 P. M.
